In pursurance of the goals of excellence established by its zealous founders, CBA has grown from an idea to a reality, and now, after a brief eight years, toward its maturity. CBA is no longer simply a "four-year, private, Catholic, day high school for boys", but rather an institution dedicated to the spiritual and intellectual development of men. When a student enters CBA, his body and soul and mind and personality are regarded neither as a piece of iron to be laid upon an anvil and hammered into shape, nor as a block of marble in which we are to find the statue by removing the rubble, nor as a receptable into which knowledge may be poured; but as a flame that is to be fed, as an active being that must be strengthened to think and to feel, to dare, to do and to suffer. As some would propose, it is not only two or three years which are necessary to cultivate this growth, but the "total experience" or high school life.

Perhaps most important in this "total experience" are the many varied relationships among students and faculty. Through his relationships with the coaches and moderators found in the intramural, interscholastic, religious and intellectual programs offered at CBA, each student is oriented toward a better Christian life and ideals. Stressing equality and fraternity among the students, the Brothers' final goal is the realization of the inherent truths of Christian harmony. It is through the many varied relationships between Brother and student that this communion of thought and action is attained, adding the final touches of character and Christianity to the now stronger and brighter flame, a man.

Dedication of Library

MR. PETER E. FLEMING must have anticipated Vatican II by a number of years, because his life has been one of full commitment, out-going zeal and self-giving love for others. A devoted husband and father, a dedicated school teacher, an unselfish doer in organized charities, a generous giver of self in helping others, all these and other features have characterized his life as one of active participation in the Christian way of living and of total involvement in the well-being of his fellow men.

As one of the Founding Fathers of Christian Brothers Academy, along with Mr. John C. Henderson and Doctor George A. Sheehan, Mr. Fleming was highly instrumental in bringing our school into existence. We at C.B.A., faculty and boys alike, are thankful for all he has done for us; as a token of our gratitude we proudly and gratefully dedicate the PETER E. FLEMING MEMORIAL LIBRARY.

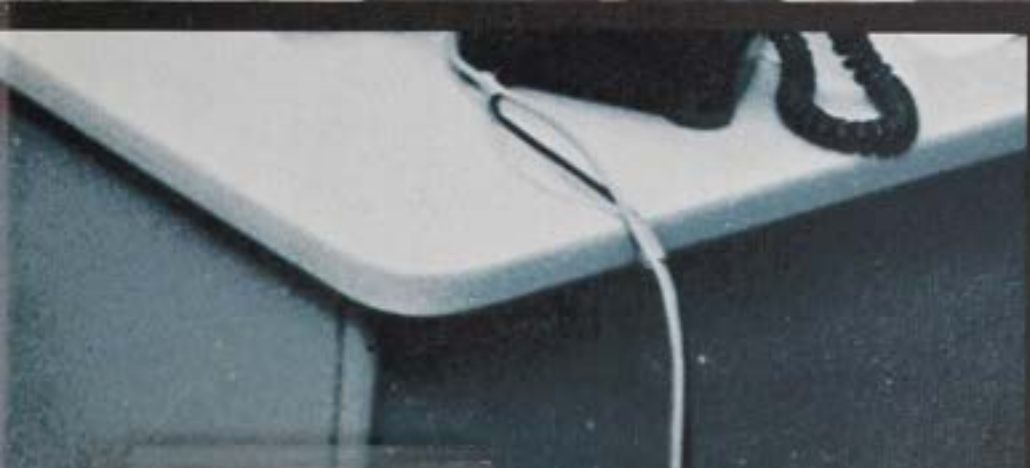

MR. PETER E. FLEMING

*It is time to turn head and heart heavenward.
Gratitude is for all ages, the very old and the brand new.
Gratitude is to have good manners to God.
It is good to be glad
It is a day for a new hymn—
God is good.*

INSTRUCTION

Through the use of the tape recorder, freshmen are exposed to religious trends which are in some contemporary music.

Director of Vocations of the Christian Brothers, Brother Malcolm, poses this thought-provoking question to a senior class: "What is a Brother?"

A zealous servant of the students, CBA's chaplain, Father Devaney, encourages senior Richard Donat.

RELIGIOUS

To extend the freshmen's knowledge of the experiences of peoples in foreign lands, Brother John utilizes a useful visual aid.

Rounding the final turn, Nick Kiernan "turns it on" in hopes of another high placed finish.

Showing excellent potential as a soph, Chris Gill will hopefully show improvement while earning a varsity letter in '67.

With his sights fixed on the finish line, Jim Geiger strides toward the gate well ahead of the nearest opponent.

Finishing strong, Rich Saker is assured of a top place and a lower score for C.B.A.

LEFT TO RIGHT: J. Anderson, J. Tibbitt, N. Kiernan, M. McGovern, T. Kearsley, C. Gill, K. Kearney, R. Saker, J. Geiger, B. Rosell, R. Bartlett, J. Lyle.

As he draws near the finish, Andy Herchakowski culminates a fine effort with a place in the top 25 of Hudson County Championship.

Maintaining a substantial lead over his nearest competition, Kevin Fuqua glides toward the finish at the Roselle Turkey Trot.

With a burst of speed, R. Smith leads toward the gate at the NJCTC meet.

G. Topp finishes early to "ice" CBA's third place at the Roselle Turkey Trot.

Frank Lawrence's closing burst of speed assures the frosh team of a 3rd place finish in the NJCTC Championship.

FRESHMAN CROSS COUNTRY

Coming in with another fine effort, G. Tampe shows the form that made the high point scorer for this year's frosh.

Although he didn't come out for Cross Country till mid-season, Chris Breedlove soon became the Frosh's top runner with races like this.

FRESHMAN RETREAT

Pooling their many ideas, C.B.A.'s faculty initiated an experimental closed retreat for the freshmen, using the Brothers' house as retreat center.

This year's theme, "What is my position as a Christian in today's society," was successfully transmitted by use of the movie, "The Parable," followed by small discussion groups and highlighted by Father Devaney's instructional talk.

The total retreat experience culminated as Freshman 5 celebrated an afternoon Mass.

To increase participation in the Mass, S. Blauvelt and M. Glinsky lead the class community in song.

Retreat time affords John Lewis an opportunity for spiritual relaxation.

"Body of CHRIST"—"Amen!"

Small discussion groups bring out many meaningful aspects of the movie—"The Parable."

Assistant stage manager, T. McGonigle, helps G. Howard and J. Siano, sound crew, to coordinate the audio effects with the visual actions.

The correct placement of props is under the skillful direction of set manager, Brother James.

Deitz, R. Donegan, A. Harris, C. Schuler, D. Viggiano, R. Guido, P. McDonough, J. Jakubowski, L. Raffetto, J. Newcomb, A. Gill, K. Frayler.

The "rulers of Grand Fenwick" are given final instructions by director Brother Richard.

STORY OF THE PLAY

The play deals with an imaginary nation, the Duchy of Grand Fenwick, which declares war on the United States to protect its wine industry. Led by Tully Bascom, Grand Fenwick invades the United States, placing our President in a bizarre situation when they capture the Q-Bomb.

Tully Bascom presents the "spoils of war" to his duchess, Gloriana the Twelfth.

Tully outlines his plan to save Grand Fenwick's honor—invade the United States!

Accepting Gloriana's scarf, Tully is assured of a constant reminder of her faith in him.

Keeping the tourists "fascinated" with his graphic description of his beloved Grand Fenwick, Tully explains its auspicious origin.

Although he is the supreme commander, the President must consent to the whims of an eccentric scientist.

The conquest has been accomplished and the "prizes of war" are led back to the victor—tiny Grand Fenwick.

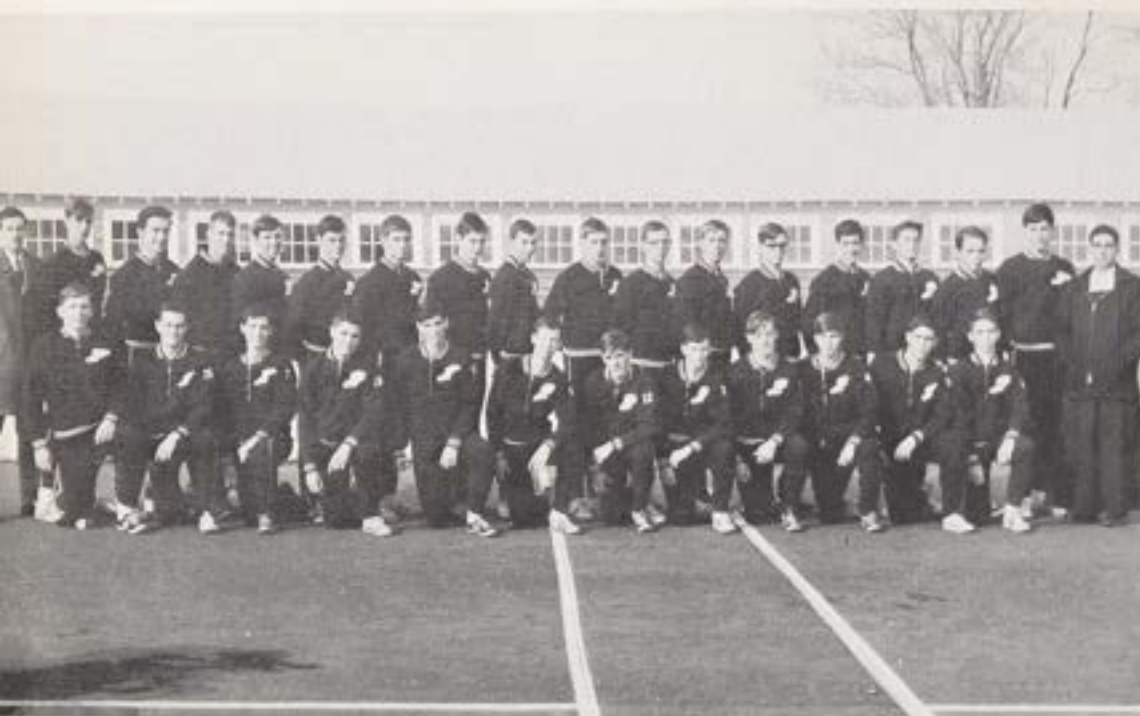

To the horror of its guards, Professor Kokintz demonstrates the awesome power of the Q-Bomb.

The President calmly listen as his Secretary of State hysterically informs him that the United States is formally at war with the Duchy of Grand Fenwick.

SOPHOMORE RETREAT

One of the fine opportunities for spiritual enrichment offered at C.B.A. is the annual Sophomore Retreat. This year's retreat, held in the early part of December, featured a complete day at the Brothers' house for each individual class. The high points of the retreat were the controversial movie, "The Parable," and an enlightening talk by Father Devaney. Mass celebrated in the afternoon culminated the day's activities.

To broaden the Sophomores' understanding of the movie, "The Parable," Brother Richard gives a few introductory remarks.

By conducting many aspects of the retreat, Sophomore retreatants took away as much as possible from their meditative experience.

The development of good religious habits is one of the retreat's main objectives.

An afternoon Mass gave the Sophomores the opportunity to respond to the previous retreat offerings.

SENIOR DIVISION

During the all important practice sessions, Mr. Chesney enlightens seniors on the fine points in the art of tackling.

Agility coupled with speed enables Mike Clark to snag a pass for a quick first down.

Attempting to pass, the Giants' Fred Stegner is thwarted in his efforts.

The pursuit ends as G. Sagui snags D. Kurkjian.

Playoffs as well as regular season games were in the capable hands of Mr. R. Mason.

Boston College quarterback P. Kuntne finds an opening in Dayton's line and completes a pass to T. Carroll.

Despite fine blocking by Boston College, their power sweep falls to the waiting arms of Dayton defenders.

Faking a hand-off, quarterback R. Carton "bootlegs" around right end.

Oncoming rush by the Cowboys' front line fails to deter M. Adams' pass to C. Tomain.

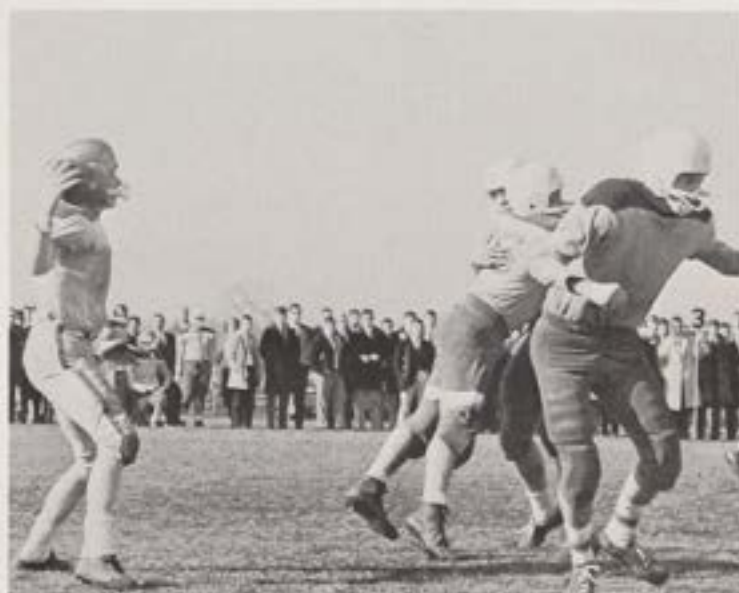

Quarterback R. Carton continues to fake to no avail as his teammate is smothered for a substantial loss.

The magnetism of a loose ball brings players converging from all sides in Intermediate League playoff.

The brute strength of J. Smigler forces J. Sportelli out of bounds after a short gain.

Against St. Mary's, Walter Knake unloads his corner shot and demonstrates the all important "follow through".

After hitting the boards hard to snag a rebound, R. Woodward wheels and uses his light touch to ice the victory against Red Bank Catholic.

Junior guard Duke Woodward proves his ability to drive as he attacks the nucleus of St. Mary's defense.

Bill McCrea shows he's a great shooter as well as rebounder as he scores against arch-rival St. Rose.

Rated all-shore, Chris Hill shows true marksmanship around the key against Mater Dei.

C.B.A.'s Bill Hlatky is way ahead of Roselle defenders as he drives in for a goal.

In a shot at the hoop Andy Gill skies high above a St. Mary's player as Walter Knake "ducks" low for position in case of an improbable rebound.

Rated the most improved player on the squad, Gene Halton scores an easy basket against the Mater Dei Serephs.

Junior Andy Gill scores on a fast break, while teammates John Anderson and Walt Knake follow the action.

With a "frog-like" leap, senior Bill Hlatky gets one off for a plus two.

Arcing the ball above the ill-timed leap of a St. Rose cager, Bob Woodward gives the St. Rose bus driver a hint to get the bus ready early.

Bill McCrea's scoring ability is vividly displayed, as he soars well above a desperate defender.

As the zone converges, Bill Glading burns the net with his graceful jump shot from the top of the key.

With a quick pivot Chris Hill outmaneuvers a frustrated Seraph and throws up a tricky hook.

Coming through with another heads-up play, Bob Woodward turns a rebound into a quick bucket to keep the Colts in contention against Lakewood.

Terminating each mass, Father Bell bestows his blessing on the J-20 retreatants.

Lecturing students on the goals of a successful retreat, the priest points out many techniques of dialogue instruction.

Retreat time offered the privilege of dual reception of communion by Brother Michael during a concelebrated Mass.

Juniors take time out from religious activities to rejuvenate their energies.

Many of the retreatants' viewpoints are brought to light and drawn to their logical conclusions during group discussions.

As an outside source, Dr. Leyman enlightens the Juniors on the facets of sex and society.

JUNIOR RETREAT APRIL 17-21

Music brings the students closer to the meaning of the Mass through their own medium.

Anticipating the reception of the Blessed Sacrament, the retreatants prepare themselves emotionally and spiritually.

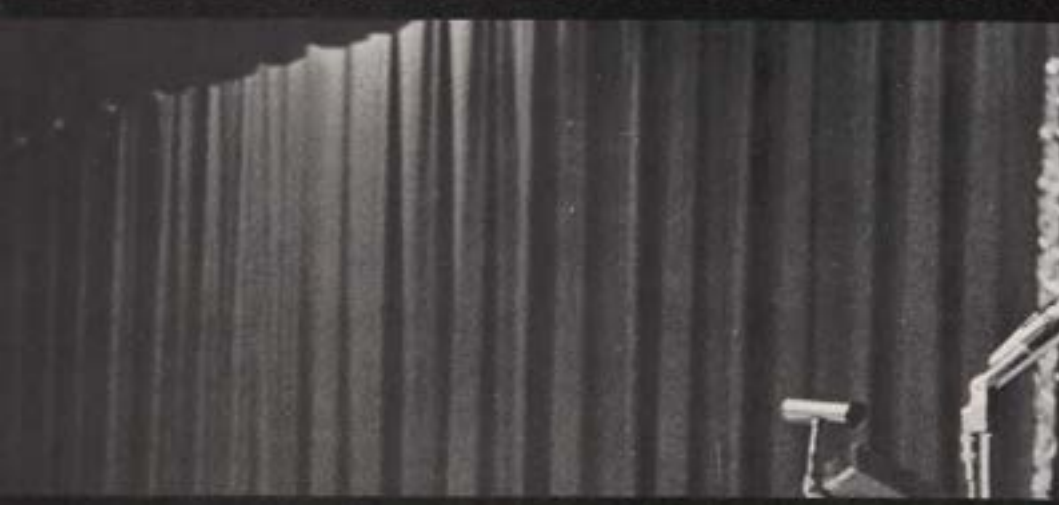

Students prepare themselves for the day's activity by offering morning prayers.

Hacking, the seniors' strongest weapon, was very effective in the student-faculty game.

While the faculty looks on in awe, R. Buckley demonstrates the Senior-All-Star ability which accounted for this year's victory.

ANNUAL STUDENT-FACULTY BASKETBALL GAME

Seniors-31 Faculty-30

CBA Representatives in the New Jersey Rodeo Tournament, left to right: K. Frayler (2nd place), J. Melosh (7th place), (J. Mulheren, 3rd place—absent). CBA received a Team trophy from the Steinbach Co. for their 1st place team effort.

After a strenuous morning of baseball and football, Seniors recoup their energy for afternoon activities.

As can be seen, "soda" was the main beverage at the Senior outing.

SENIOR CANDIDS

Looking on with deep determination, J. Mulheren spots the candid camera.

P. Hinck and classmates take advantage of the library innovation of listening to modern plays in a quiet way.

"But Freedom, as Adlai Stevenson reminded us, is a plant which grows only from knowledge—it must be watered with faith. The mature rebel, who struggles from strength, is one who possesses knowledge—intellectual maturity—a sense of the past and, above all, a sense of humor—he seeks to reform and to reconcile those who may be disturbed by change and uncertainty."
