FOREWORD

The student is many things, but he is not yet a citizen of the world. He has everything in his quest for truth, but he lacks everything in experience. He turns to education to teach him to see things as they really are.

A student seeks education to give meaning to words. He desires that words such as scholarship, leadership, service, and purpose become not just words but meaningful realities. He seeks meanings for his ideas. By disciplining his mind he seeks solutions to his problems and surveys humanity with life's illusions recalled. With sharp perception he sees a band in the spectrum of man's knowledge where he can make his own contribution. A student seeks people, for he knows the values of people, friends, and relationships.

Sparked by the potential of his freedoms and charged with all his desires, the student naturally dreams. To give his dreams meaning he must choose and decide to forgo certain freedoms to achieve the special dreams that will make his life meaningful. These special dreams are such as Dr. Martin Luther King's, "I dreamed that one day my four children would not be judged by the color of their skin, but by the content of their character." The student has many special dreams, and in the process of making these dreams come true he grasps for the true freedoms and becomes both a man and a citizen of the world.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES

The Board of Trustees is concerned with the business aspects of the Administration, such as changes affecting the property, insurance, financing, major maintenance and legal affairs. The Board engages in long range planning, major allocations of financial resources and in studies concerning utilization of school property.

In order to deal with these matters, the Board has been divided into committees. The Finance Committee, chaired by Brother Boniface, consists of Mr. Sullivan, Mr. Barlow, and Mr. Murphy. This committee advises Brother Boniface on short term investments of cash, financial projections, and planning.

A committee which concerns itself with the expansion of the school is the Committee on Long Range Planning. Brother Stephen is chairman and the members are Dr. Sheehan, Mr. Sullivan, Mr. Hurley, Mr. Correa, Brother Kevin and Brother William. This committee deals with long range goals of C.B.A. in terms of education, size in relation to the community, efficiency, and cost.

A third interest of the Board is a committee for the purposeful use of school property. Dr. Sheehan is chairman and the committee comprises Mr. Murphy, Mr. King, Brother Az. Robert, and Brother C. Edward.

MODULAR SCHEDULING

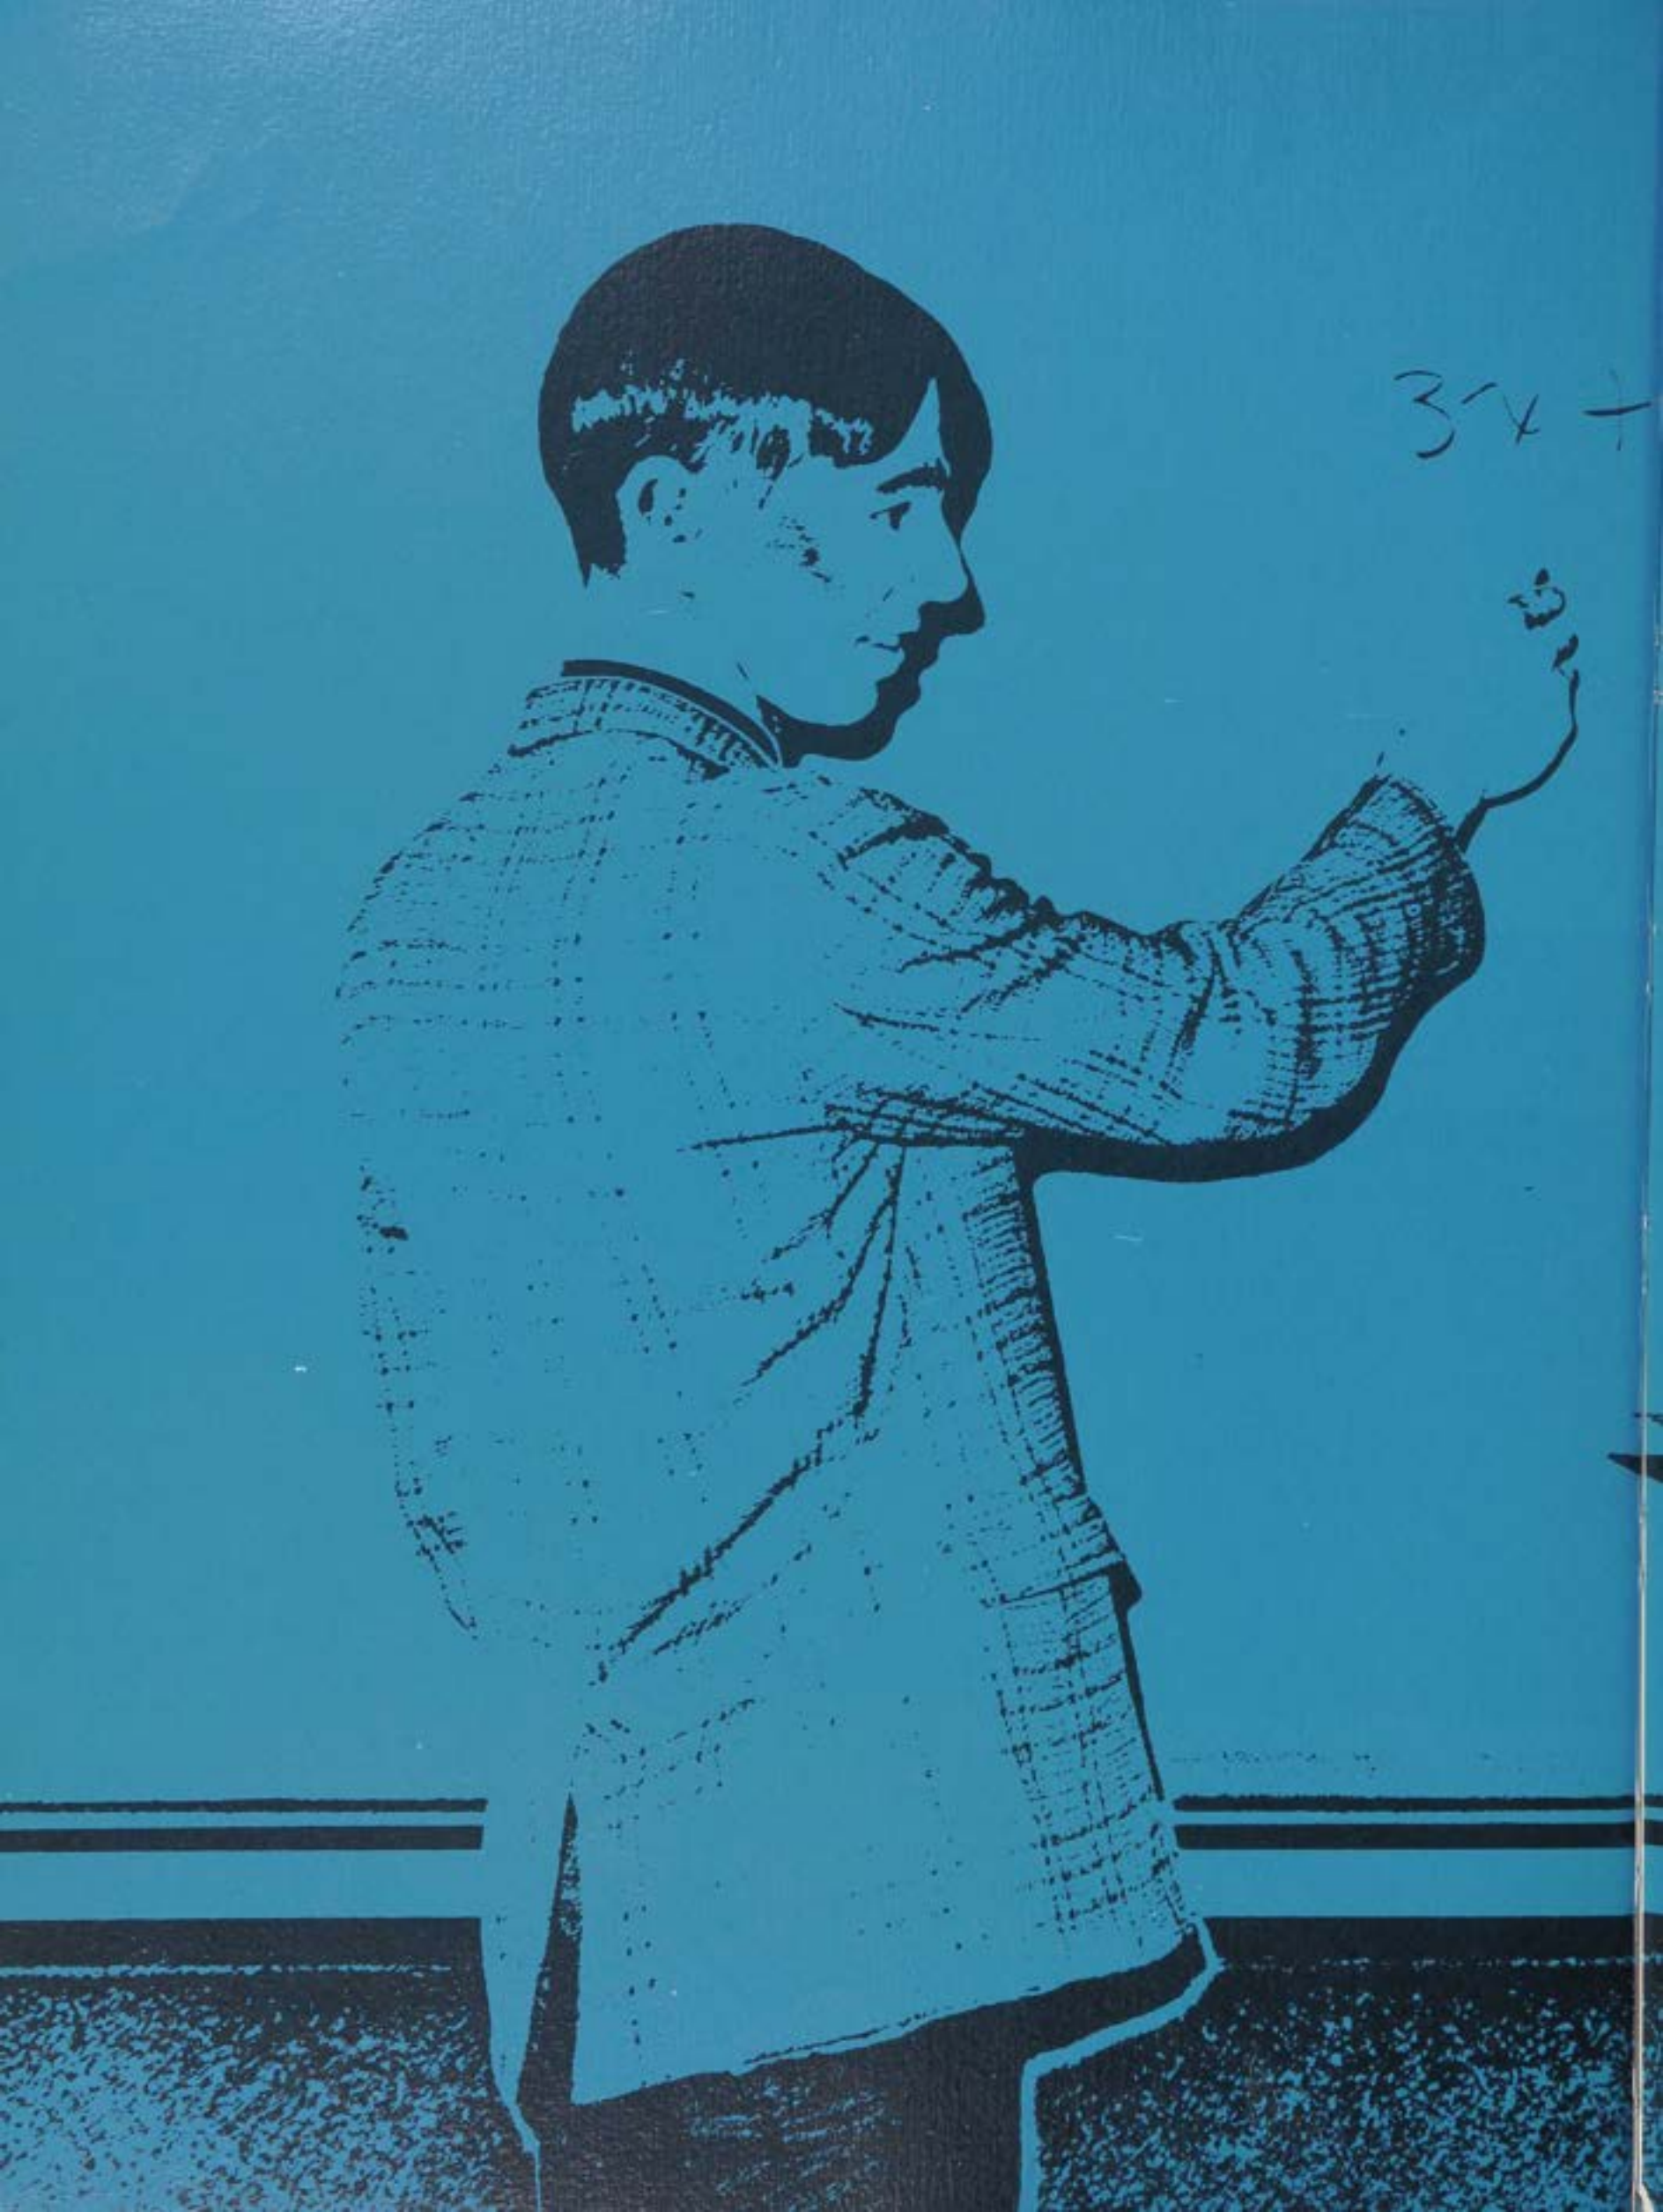

In September of 1967 Christian Brothers Academy issued to students and teachers a type of schedule that differed from the one to which they were accustomed. Educators generally refer to this new technique as Modular Scheduling or Flexible Scheduling. The word "flexible" is very descriptive, for the schedule changes every day. The term "modular" is used because the day is no longer divided into six, seven or eight periods of 45 minutes each, but into modules or measures of time. The time length of a module at CBA is 25 minutes.

The principal and immediate reason for changing to modular scheduling was the recommendation made by three different evaluating committees, the Middle States Association, the State Department of Education and the Christian Brothers' Supervisor of Schools. Although all three accrediting agencies gave the school a rating of very good to excellent, all three likewise recognized a need for greater flexibility in the daily schedule.

The modular scheduling has made both the teacher and the student more creative. It has provided for an increased number of study periods, more student responsibility and freedom, a better distribution of work time, the advantages of variety, and less pressure on students and teachers. The overall effect has been more stimulating lessons and increased learning.

FATHERS' CLUB

Fulfilling the need for increased communication between parents and teachers, as well as supporting the school with its well organized financial drive, the Fathers' Club completed its most successful year. Varying in activities from Square Dance, Buffet Dance, Communion Breakfast to Cadillac raffle, the Fathers' Club has become an integral part of the school.

The concluding event of the Fathers' Club social calendar was the Buffet Dance held in the CBA Gym on April 27. A most enjoyable evening resulted from the planning and efforts of the fathers.

As the time for the raffle approaches, everyone's interest now centers upon the drawing.

Testing, an important part of the guidance program, is used by Brother Benedict in evaluating the students' qualifications for their prospective colleges.

Guidance helps the student develop and accept mature concepts of himself and his relationships with God and the world in which he lives. This is achieved by helping the student nurture the talents which he possesses and to make these useful in his life. The Guidance Department performs this service by employing the professional assistance of Brother Benedict, as well as consulting Psychologist Dr. William Angers and the use of contemporary testing methods.

Guidance is not restricted to members of the student body; many of the alumni visiting CBA approach the various members of the faculty for personal advice.

In a guidance class, every possible means is used in order to find the students' full capacity for learning.

G. Dreyfuss and C. Gill question Mr. O'Shea on the role of the lay-teacher in the Catholic school.

Through personal interviews, Brother Benedict is able to help C. Henderson plan his future.

With Brother Richard's help, seniors go through the wide variety of literature on college and career selections.

Under the leadership of President, Frank Vanni, and Vice President, Frank DeLucia, CBA's Student Council has emerged as a model example of student government. Working closely with their moderator, Brother B. Edward, they have greatly increased student involvement in the Council's decisions by stressing homeroom meetings, open forums, school assemblies and the weekly meetings for homeroom representatives. This, coupled with the dynamism of the committee members, has generated the dormant school spirit of the students to high levels of participation in dances, pep rallies, and sports events.

Here he is, CBA's own Santa Claus, Basil Ferrentino, making a surprise visit at the Christmas Assembly.

LIBRARY COUNCIL

Under the command of Mrs. Margaret Benson, the library has become a seaworthy ship in the tempest of knowledge.

Organization of the library and its general upkeep is the main task of the Library Council. Other duties of this committee include shelf-reading, checking out books, and keeping the newspapers and periodicals up-to-date.

With the addition of the library annex came the creation of the Audio-Visual Committee. Besides delivering, operating, and caring for electronic equipment, the committee sponsors occasional movies in order to raise funds to pay for new equipment.

BACK TO SCHOOL DANCE

The new monthly dance program was enthusiastically launched on September 16 by this year's energetic Student Council. "The Chlan", with their psychedelic sounds, rocketed the students' spirit to new heights. This initial blast-off delivered a payload of over $500 to the ever-expanding Student Council treasury.

Senior Division

As the scholastic year begins to go into full swing, CBA's extensive intramural program begins to build momentum. The cool temperatures of the fall season brought about 250 students to the football fields. Coupling intense enthusiasm and well disciplined playing, the novice player as well as the well experienced player made for a highly successful season.

PLAYOFF CHAMPIONS — COWBOYS — KNEELING, left to right: F. Ferrentino, V. Meade, D. Franklin, A. Garfall. STANDING: T. Gallagher, D. Schuster, B. Kantor, J. Killelea, K. McAuley.

INTRAMURAL

An all-out effort by R. Diely enables him to haul in a long pass despite Bill Brink's tight defense.

As M. Adams moves in for the tackle, J. Killelea cuts to the outside for the score.

With the offensive line forming a pocket, W. Thompson gets the needed protection to hit his receiver.

Recovering the ball from a fumble, L. Raffetto picks up needed yardage.

A united team effort, led by J. McKeever, proved beneficial against arch-rival Red Bank Catholic.

Strong back-up men like J. Friebaum gave depth to CBA's powerful harriers.

As they round the bend, C. Gill and J. Hageman make an attempt to pass their opponents.

The onrush of fall leaves awakens CBA's consistently powerful harriers. The varsity squad finished high in several major meets, including first place in the Monmouth County Championships.

INTRAMURAL BASKETBALL

With the arrival of the cold winter months, the ever popular intramural basketball program, moderated by Brother Denis, comes alive. Enthusiastic competition and good sportsmanship between the teams is what makes the program so successful. It gives a large proportion of the student body a chance to participate in playing basketball aside from inter-scholastic competition.

C. McGrath smiles with triumph while B. Kantor frowns with horror, as Team 2 scores two more points.

The cold of winter is no deterrent for the tough CBA intramural ice skaters. Over 50 students were involved in competition at the Navesink Country Club Skating Rink. During the annual student-faculty game, the faculty six, led by Brother C. Michael, scored an easy 9-2 victory over the intramural all-stars.

Contestants fight for possession of the puck at center ice.

On a fast break, an alert J. Sampson picks off a stray pass and is about to take off to the opponents' goal.

Fierce body checking in the rink's corner is terminated as the puck is frozen against the boards.

INTRAMURAL BOWLING

Under the direction of Brother C. William, bowling has increased in popularity every year at CBA. This year's league has been separated into the Wednesday and Friday divisions in order to handle the large number of students interested in bowling. Handicaps are arranged and awards for the winning teams and outstanding individuals are presented at the conclusion of the season.

VARSITY OUTDOOR TRACK

Post race advice given by varsity coach, Mr. Hyland, is a big factor in the development of young runners.

In spite of the cold weather, the three squads of CBA indoor trackmen overcame many obstacles and achieved another winning season. With the combination of superb leadership and natural ability, the team again won the Monmouth-Ocean County Championships for the fourth straight year. CBA trackmen have proved themselves to be one of the leading track powers in the state, thanks to hours of disciplined practice and keen enthusiasm.

Fighting for position against a Lakewood opponent, P. Kuntne clears a hurdle.

As Mr. Hyland watches from the background, C.B.A. gains a commanding lead.

J. Barnacle, with a strong finishing kick, paces the varsity victory over Long Branch.

R. Sama easily clears the bar for another victory for the Colts.

J. Edsall is up and over as he clears the bar in the many practice sessions for up and coming events.

Winning in near-record time, C. Casagrande breaks the tape at Lawrenceville.

Taking command of the JV Track team in his first year at CBA, Mr. Broderick jots down pertinent information.

Quick baton exchanges help V. Valles and J. Tarallo retain the lead in the Lakewood meet.

Perfect timing and skillful coordination are two basic essentials for a good hurdler, as shown by R. Diely.

C.B.A. Wins Monmouth-Ocean Championship For 4th Straight Year.

Putting their reserve energy to good use W. Kuker and A. Migliaccio reward both themselves and CBA with another win in a relay.

HALLOWEEN DANCE

After a strenuous first marking period, the students "turned on" to the sounds of the Black River Circus. The dance, the second one of the year, was held Saturday evening, October 16, in the cafeteria. Over 900 students from both CBA and other neighboring schools attended the early Halloween dance, making it the most successful dance ever. This increased popularity is due to the Student Council's efficient organization and its ability to spark enthusiastic school spirit. The dance netted over $700.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The National Honor Society is a nation-wide organization by which member schools give recognition to their Juniors and Seniors whose record is especially worthy of commendation. Four categories of requirements must be met by candidates before they can be admitted: character, scholarship, leadership, service.

In the Christian Brothers Academy Chapter, the character and leadership requirements are met by recommendation of the Faculty. The requirements of scholarship, and service are met by acquiring a specified minimum number of points in each category, depending on participation in activities.

C. Straub and D. Viggiano offer their services as tutors to those students who desire help in math.

Upon receiving the NHS symbol P. McDonough offers congratulations to J. Deutschle.

PEGASUS

To meet the always present deadline, staff members E. Gardella, J. Nappi, and P. Hunrath enter Benilde Hall for another day's work.

EDITORIAL STAFF — Left to right: A. Perna, L. Raffetto, A. Ciaramelli, Brother John, J. Kanter.

A hard year of work and many hours of toil are well appreciated when the Pegasus finally comes off the press. The 1968 yearbook is a result of serious realization that deadlines have to be met and work has to be done. This year's increased size of the yearbook required many conscientious and devoted workers to meet its high standards. As a reward for a hard year of work and the publication of a fine book, the staff is treated to a trip to the printer's and then to dinner.

Active members of the Senior staff, R. Severini, H. Caplan, E. Masson, R. Pavia, and A. Gill, contribute to the efficient management of the Pegasus.

One of the major assets of the yearbook staff is its efficient photography staff, with T. Florczak, P. Denig, and J. Grause as chief contributors.

A last minute check for correlation between captions and pictures is one of the tedious tasks of news editor A. Ciaramelli.

One of the major improvements of the Torch is the new, smaller edition of the paper. The paper is now half the size it was in previous years. The newspaper comes out monthly, instead of quarterly as in years before. Therefore, the news is more punctual and informative. It also gives the staff a greater chance to show its writing ability.

THE TORCH

One of the essentials of reporting is knowledge of the article and its subject; this prompts many writers to research various sources in the school library.

Interesting and informative editorials are the responsibility of the feature section, under the capable supervision of Greg Uchrin.

DRAMATICS

Inherit the Wind

Inherit the Wind is a play inspired by the famous "Scopes Monkey Trial" of 1925. At that time the apparent conflict between religion and science was fought with William Jennings Bryan defending a literal interpretation of the Bible, and Clarence Darrow promoting an evolutionary concept of man. Today, the play reminds us that although truth is one, we must never presuppose that our position is the lone, correct one.

"Rache—Love me!!!"

Rev. Brown, (C. Uchrin), calls the wrath of God down on Bert Cates, "Strike down this sinner, as You did Your enemies of old, in the days of the Pharaohs!"

"You interpret that the first day recorded in the Book of Genesis could be of indeterminate length. It could have been thirty hours! Or a month! Or a year! Or a hundred years! Or ten million years." Using consistent logic Drummond undermines Brady while the entire cast intently looks on.

"Man was sort of evolved", Howard, (John Musolf), nonchalantly explains as Brady, (William Smith), listens intently.

Henry Drummond objects to the judge, (J. Remer), about the court procedures employed by Brady.

"Step right up and get your tickets for the Middle Ages! You only thought you missed the coronation of Charlemagne!" E. K. Hornbeck, (J. Pallone), gives his cynical opinion of the outcome of the trail.

Besides working as stage manager, Brother James spent extra hours carefully applying make-up.

Stage crew, under the direction of Brother Richard, was in charge of scenery construction and continuity of the play."

"Your Honor, the prosecution takes exception! Where the issues are so titanic, the court must mete out more drastic punishment."

"... And here, here in this courtroom, we have seen vindicated, we have seen vindicated...", exclaims Matt Brady as he airs his views to his unseen audience.

Upon realizing that he had won the battle and lost the war, Brady's only response is a sudden heart attack.

WINNERS OF OPTIMIST CLUB SPEECH CONTESTS: P. Allegro, third place; P. Moscatello, first place; M. Kineavy, second place; R. Viscount, first place; M. Sheprow, third place; M. Landers, second place.

The C.B.A. Forensics Club this year kept up the winning tradition that had been established in previous years. Although the year started slowly, the club, led by the experienced Senior and Junior members, won trophies in the Roselle Catholic Speech Festival, the Long Branch Speech Festival, and the South Jersey District Finals. The Freshman and Sophomore members won their share of trophies in various Optimist Club speech and debate contests.

This past season proved to be a fruitful one for Mike Esposito, and the culminating point of his four years in extemporaneous speaking. He was recognized as one of the best extemp speakers in the state, and was invited to compete in the National Catholic Forensic League Grand Tournament at Chicago.

WINNERS OF THE CBA IN-TRAMURAL SPEAKING CONTEST — STANDING, left to right: M. Landers, first place in declamation; R. Viscount, first place in senior declamation; M. Displaying the determination and style with which he delivered his declamation piece, R. Viscount points his way to victory.

Going over material for extemp speeches, M. Esposito, J. Alexander, and F. Hencken try to polish and factually annotate their five-minute talk.

B. Brooks and F. Scovell show the form and organization which brought them a 17-7 record in debate and an invitation to the National Catholic Grand Tournament at Chicago.

M. Esposito took first place in extemp, R. Viscount captured second place in declamation, and G. Uchrin won third place in dramatic interpretation in the South Jersey District Contest of the National Forensic League.

CAMERA CLUB

Among the various clubs at C.B.A., the Radio and Camera Clubs offer useful as well as interesting projects.

Not only taking and developing photographs, but also moving-picture projects comprise the activities of the Camera Club.

Evaluating a carefully taken picture, J. Verange points out to J. Remer both its fine points and faults.

In this scene of "A Day at CBA", produced by the Camera Club, Brother Camillus is assisting a student in obtaining a transcript of his school records.

RADIO CLUB

The Radio Club trains students in the skills necessary for obtaining an amateur radio transmitter's license and repairing electronic equipment.

Working to adjust the antenna, G. Uchrin, G. Pitcher, and R. Paladini discuss the most advantageous position for transmission.

Explaining the current rules for borrowing shortwave gear, R. Paladini emphasizes the need for proper care of the equipment to G. Pitcher.

Jumping Gene Halton utilizes great spring and perfect timing to execute a left-handed tap-in.

A milestone in Colt basketball history: Chris Hill moves in for the shot that broke the famed 1,000 point barrier.

The 1967-68 version of the Colt's basketball team pulled off many surprises. Rated during the pre-season as an also-ran, the Colts stunned many by taking the Holiday Jubilee once again, and by being rated best quintet in the Shore. Highlighting the season were: Chris Hill breaking the 1,000 point career barrier, the 100th team victory under Mr. Cox's leadership, and the breaking of Lakewood's 33 game winning streak on their home court.

Bill Glading gets off his soft jumpshot over the futile lunge of an Asbury player.

In preparation for the regionals, a few of CBA's senior grapplers practice their holds.

The '67-'68 season brought unprecedented success to CBA's wrestling team. While their otherwise flawless record was marred by one loss, they brought defeat to such champions as St. Benedict's Prep. The season came to a climax when six CBA grapplers competed in the Districts, with Gary Sagui and Peter Black reaching the State Finals. Mr. Chesney and the team are justly proud of such a record.

At Convention Hall, Gary Sagui defeats his Bergenfield opponent, assuring himself of at least second place in the state finals.

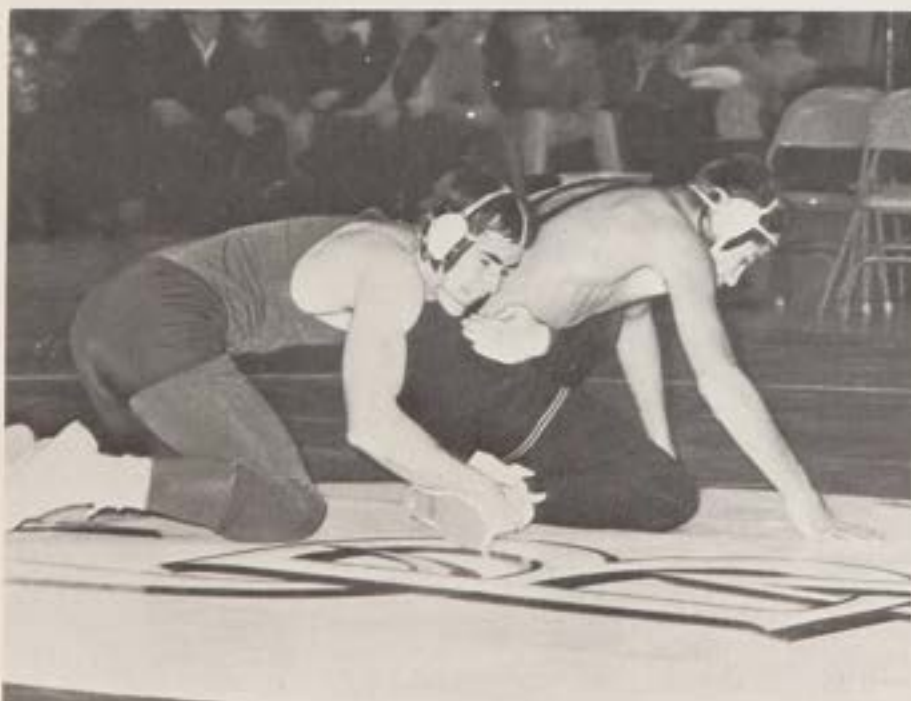

Taxing himself to the utmost, T. Sagui goes on to defeat another opponent.

Under the careful observation of the referee, F. DeLucia rolls his opponent over for another pin.

In anticipation of his next win, K. Walsh applies a "near-arm far-ankle."

Skillfully applying the laws of leverage, R. Delaplain strains to keep his opponent within bounds.

Concentrating on breaking down his wearied adversary's hold, H. Hardie seems a sure bet for an escape.

Trying to anticipate a B. Ekdahl move, W. Brunone subtly positions his rear guard.

Brother C. Edward's most potent approach is to outstare his opponent.

A battle of wits between W. Forsyth and W. McDermott seems to have drawn a stalemate.

CHESS

With the advancing cold weather, CBA students turned indoors for after-school activities. High on the list of popular student activities are chess and table tennis. Held in the cafeteria after school every day, chess is under the direction of Brother Edward and table tennis under Brother Andres. To add a more competitive atmosphere and to stimulate more interest, tournaments were held among the interested students.

CHRISTMAS DANCE

The spirit of Christmas was brought into full swing with the arrival of Santa Claus at the Christmas Dance held at C.B.A. The lively sounds of The Marlboro Street Blues helped to spread good cheer and good will to all the dancers. In return for the enjoyable evening, many of the students and friends brought toys, which when gathered, formed a mountain of joy for those unfortunate children who would, ordinarily, have none. This, combined with a most pleasing Student Council profit, exemplified the success of the dance.

The style and form of C.B.A.'s hurdlers, demonstrated here by P. Mangiamele and P. Madden, show the competence which led the team to another victorious year.

VARSITY INDOOR TRACK

As the school year came to a close, it became apparent that this had been another successful season for CBA's Outdoor Track Team. This year, Mr. Hyland's runners included such stalwarts as Chuck Casagrande, Joe McKeever, Jim Ham, Jim Barnacle, et al. The crowning achievement of their stellar performance was the State Championship of the Parochial "A" Division. Also encouraging was the fine Freshman back-up team.

An important part of the field events depended on the abilities of B. Ferrentino.

State District Golf Tournament:
6th of 23 schools represented

Displaying the form that aided CBA to compile a winning record, G. Daly lines up his next shot.

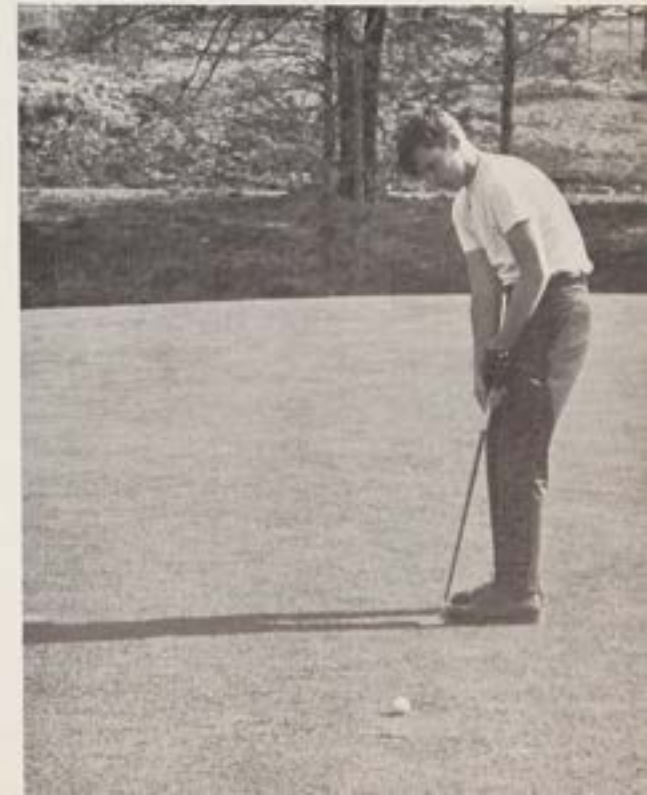

GOLF TEAM — LEFT TO RIGHT: H. Hemmendinger, M. Duffy, E. Weickel, J. Sampson, C. Kienzle, G. Daly, M. DeCesare, R. Stern, A. Petraglia, T. Hoyt, H. Garrity, A. McGinnis, Brother C. Michael (Coach).

At 2:45 each spring day, Brother C. Michael and the golf team drive to Bamm Hollow for a home match or spend the early part of the afternoon traveling to an away match. The key to this year's success against strong competition is the long hours of diligent practice and the ability of its members.

"Sinking the putt" is exemplified by H. Garrity.

"Slicing" the ball is R. Stern's specialty.

As C. Straub holds the attention of the opposition, his teammate slips by to score a run.

INTRAMURAL SOFTBALL

As the grass grew greener, the students' folly turned to intense softball competition. Freshmen and Sophomores organized teams for increased stimulation among the players. With Brother Edward's superb organization, the teams suffered no casualties this year.

After being caught off guard, J. Roper scrambles back to the base.

Hitting the ball with ease, C. Morris displays the characteristics of a valuable player.

The hardest part of the fielder's job is just waiting for the ball.

Concentration and muscle coordination are the essential ingredients for a good pitch and a good pitcher.

With the encouragement of his teammates, D. McCarthy comes through with a long single.

Keeping his eye on the ball, C. Hill attempts to punch a single by the second baseman.

Mike "the Eye" Crowley lines up another dribbler to the pitcher.

The corner, the most important part of the court, is used by R. Bocim to score a point over K. Harper.

With a look of disbelief W. Lautenslager watches T. Roman make a unbelievable save.

INTRAMURAL HANDBALL

With a low, fast shot, S. Fusaro catches J. Lewis off-guard.

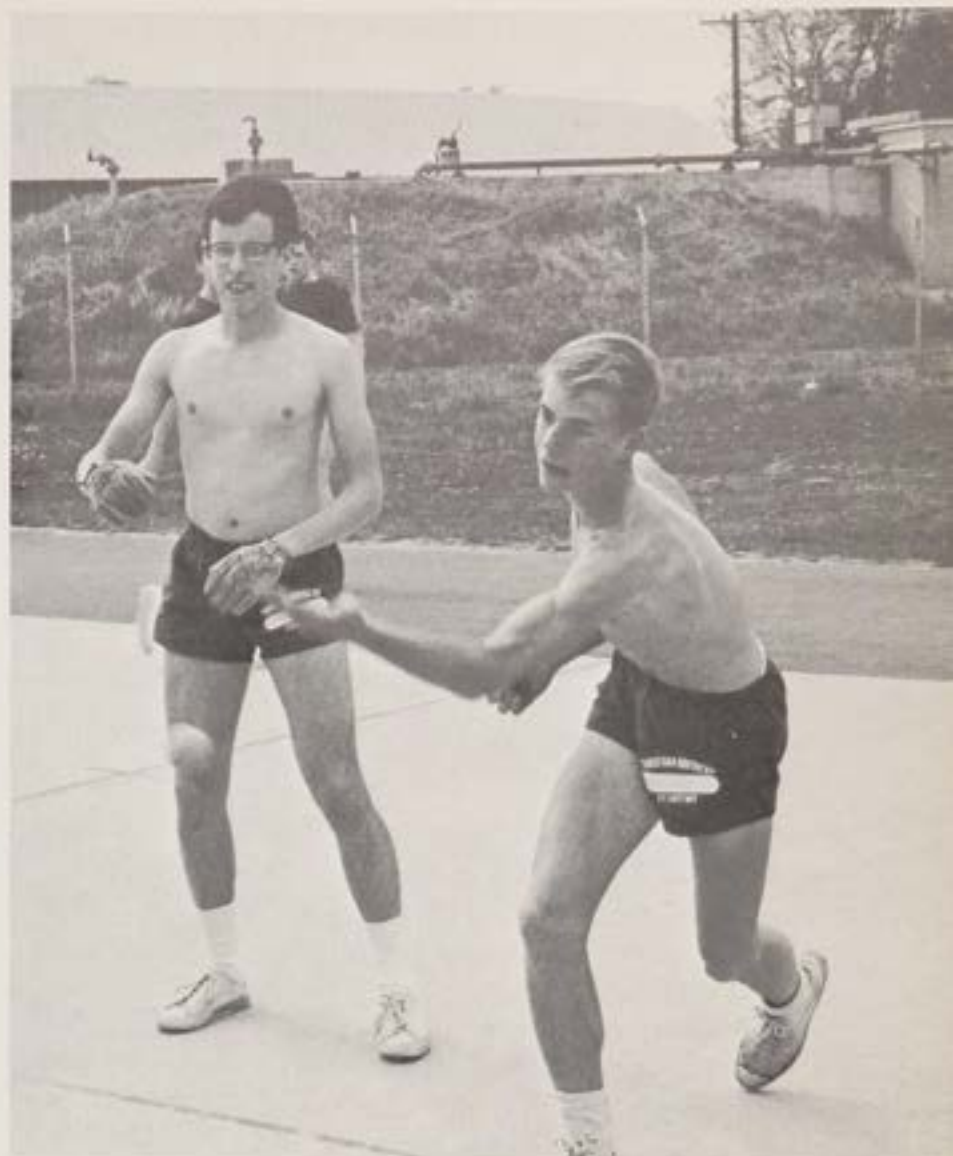

Coordination, the player's most valuable asset, is exemplified by M. Studer.

South Amboy Auto Parts Co., Inc.*

Displaying championship form, J. Howard drives one toward the wall as opponents stand poised waiting for his return.

With the coming of the warmer weather, the handball courts were the scene of keen competition, as the first spring sport got under way. Singles and doubles tournaments stimulated a large amount of student participation. Brother Dominick kept the records straight, while Brother Denis supervised the playing fields.

Straining for the ball, N. Crowley picks up a point while his opponent stands by helplessly.

T. Roman's left and L. Hoyt's right converge on a tough shot up the middle.

The teaming up of J. Correa and E. Suski proves to be a winning combination in doubles play.

With quick reflexes, J. Correa drives the ball back to the amazement of his opponent.

VARSITY TENNIS

Traveling near and far CBA's Tennis team has taken on all opponents—the strong and the strongest. The brilliant record shows their response to these opponents. With the successful teaming in both single and doubles play and with the perceptive leadership of Brother Patrick, the team has become a giant in the shore area.

Showing his winning form frosh J. Burrus quickly returns a Long Branch opponent's serve.

With a firm stance, B. Shearer prepares to put away an easy volley.

B. Kantor demonstrates that being on your toes is a key to his successful return strokes.

Coming through with a fine return shot, W. Koch moves up to the net in an effort to stop his opponent.

Smooth-swing Ron Guido steps into a fast ball and connects for a timely base hit.

SEATED, left to right: J. Boehm, W. Brink, R. Woodward, W. Hogan, R. Guido, J. Donnelly.

Jim Donnelly gobbles up a hopper at the "hot corner" and retires another batter.

Anticipating a close play at the plate, Jack Trenta goes into a slide to insure another run for the Colts.

VARSITY BASEBALL

This year saw the beginning of a new era for the baseball team. Encouraged by playing .500 ball throughout most of the season, the team came up with strong defensive play and an overall sense of teamwork. New blood within the pitching staff spirited the rest of the team onward, and this combined with great hitting proved to be a winning combination.

With a 3-0 count Jean Deuschle harasses the opposing pitcher in hopes of obtaining a walk.

Lefty Lou Russo fires one past another batter and is on his way to chalking up one more strikeout.

Bill Hogan brings another run across with a slide in a close play at the plate.

Bill Brink fouls one back and "hangs in there" keeping his chances for a hit alive.

The ball well on its way, Don Weir rounds first on his way to a triple against St. Rose.

Bill Glading puts one past the infield for a safety.

On July 11, a group of enthusiastic students departed for Lisbon, the first stop on their European Study Tour. The tour was conducted through nine countries and lasted for three weeks.

MISCELLANEOUS

Activities involving an occasional student response range from a Karate exposition to a delightful summer in Europe. Christmas, of course, would not have been the same without hearing "Jingle Bells" played on twelve guitars. While some tried Mr. Zimmerman's patience, others strove to win honors for C.B.A. in physical fitness and safe driving.

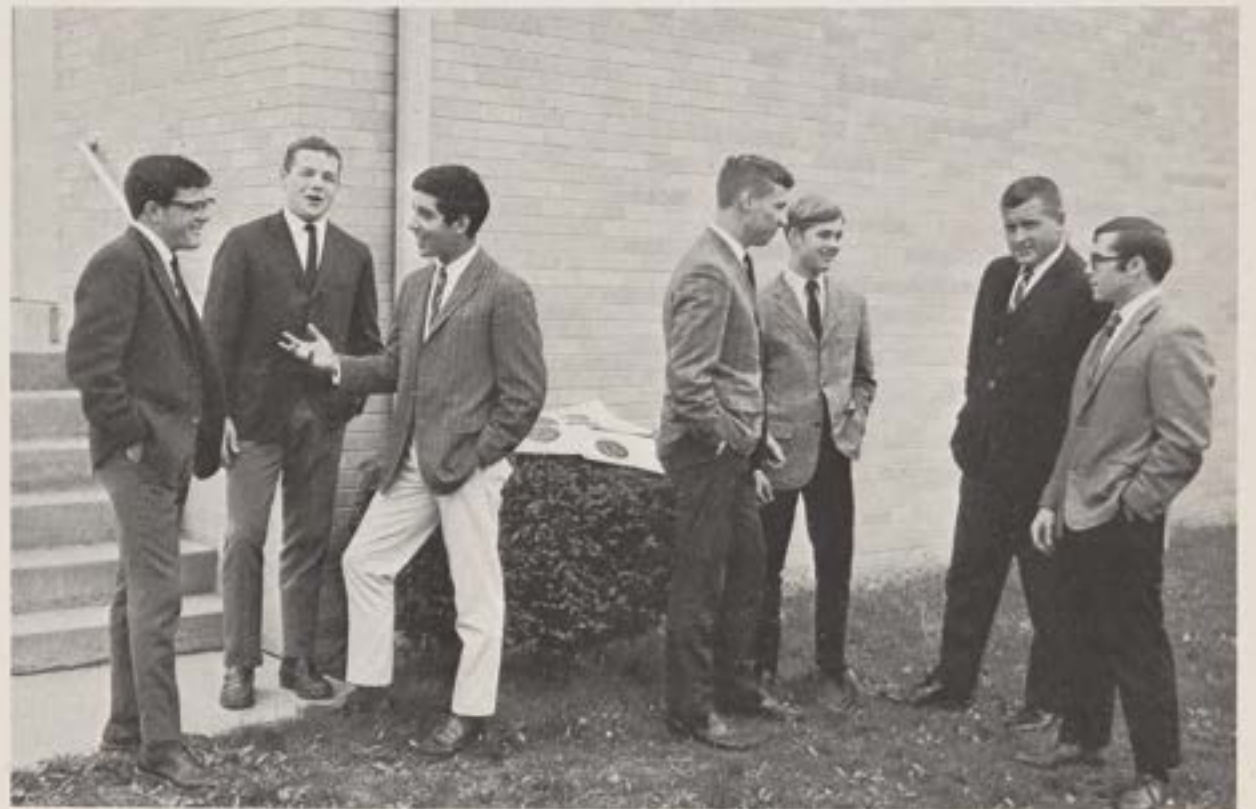

The 1st place winner in the New Jersey Rodeo Tournament, James Siano, displays his trophy.

The One Hundred Guitars, slightly diminished, perform their exciting numbers "Jingle Bells" and "Born Free".

CANONIZATION OF BROTHER BENILDE, F.S.C.

BROTHER BENILDE, F.S.C., born Peter Romancon, in Thuret in the central part of France on June 4, 1805, was a Christian Brother for forty-two years. His life's work was teaching: first in the villages near his home, and then as the principal of a school in Saugues where he spent twenty-one years of his life. Here he died on April 4, 1862.

Brother Benilde's way to the highest honors of the Church was in a most ordinary way. No martyr. No great intellect. No political leader. He did not need to reach missionary fields; he did not lead crusades; nor did he establish new institutions. He is a man for the common man, whether he be teacher or otherwise, who lives a so-called humdrum existence from day to day.

By rejoicing in this event we are rejoicing in the Church's recognition of the influential goodness which flows from "doing the common things uncommonly well."

Brother Stephen Gives
St. Benilde Homily.

RELIGIOUS ACTIVITIES

Serious reading is the spark that causes the action to develop from the thought.

Most action originates in the minds of youths.

THOUGHT

Action, a very essential part of Religion, originates as a tiny seed in the minds of youth and evolves through various stages of increased involvement to the culmination: Individual participation in a group.

EVOLVES

G. Rutledge, as a member of the Benilde Catechists, sacrifices his time to explain to grammar school children the significance of a parable.

Introducing the visiting religious on Vocation Day, F. Vanni starts them on a day of working and talking to the students.

Visiting a group of sophomores, a priest appeals to their imagination while explaining his ideas.

During their retreat, seniors take a much more active part in the celebration of the Mass.

"Unity through Understanding" is the theme of the Church Unity Oclave, when the students received information concerning other religions from the ministers and rabbis of those cults.

INTO

Before Father consecrates the bread and wine, he reflects on the significance of this action.

ACTION

Individual participation in a group is the climax of the evolved thought.

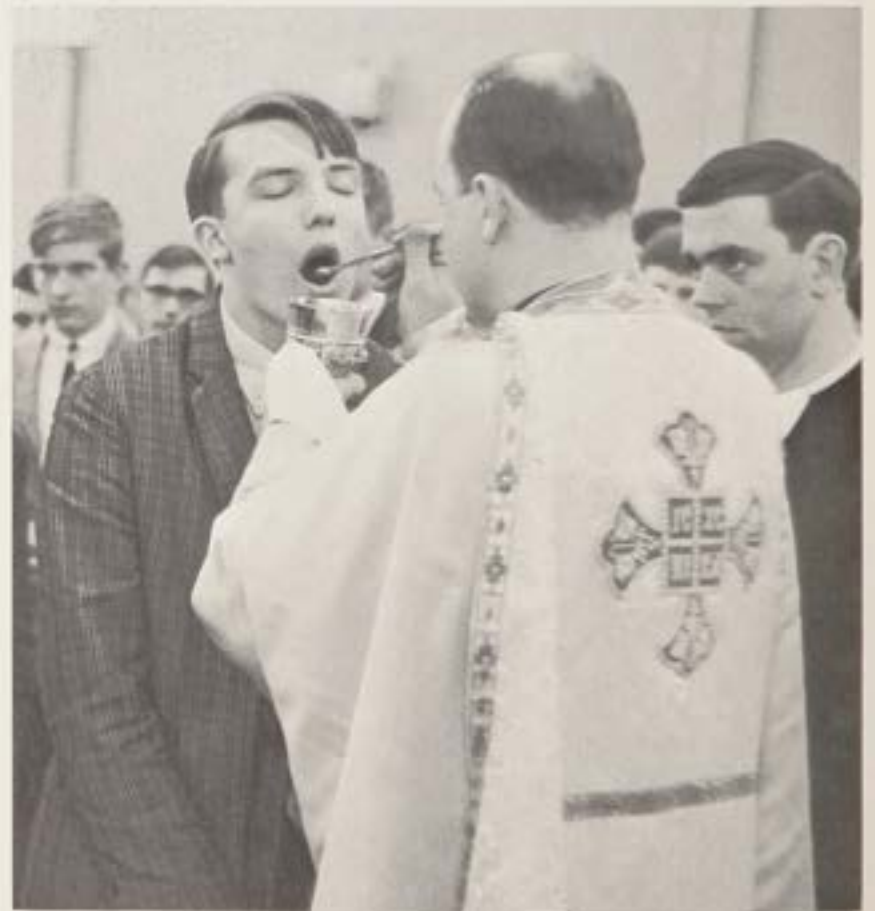

*This page compliments of . . .
 Congratulations and Best Wishes

 Stephen A. Argeris*

The student body unites with the priest and offers a "clean, holy, and spotless oblation" to the eternal Father.

THE INVOLVED STUDENT:

The students offer themselves as well as bread and wine during the Offertory of the Mass.

During Church Unity Week the students have a rare opportunity to receive Christ's body under both species during the celebration of a mass of the Byzantine Rite.

JUNIOR PROM

The culmination of the school year's social events, the Junior Prom, was held on the evening of May 4, 1968 in the school gym from 8:30 to 1:00. With an underwater theme, the artful settings brought "Davy Jones's Locker" to life for the students and their dates.

A sumptuous buffet was prepared by alumni mothers, and together with the music of the Marlboro Street Blues, everything added up to an enjoyable evening.

Receiving another late slip from Brother Anthony, J. Nappi offers his usual excuse of running out of gas.

Working with the seniors to improve their singing, Brother A. Kevin stresses staying on pitch.

Leaving his teammates stunned, E. McKenna sinks one on a fast break.
