PEGASUS

A yearbook never really seems to live up to what its theme says it is. Perhaps this is true because it is often impossible to capture the many feelings, characteristics, and actions of a school in one short paragraph. Another reason is that themes usually apply obscure and profound meanings to a period of time which already has its own significance.

For this reason, you will find the theme of the 1971 Pegasus in the book—in the pictures—in the faces.

We dedicate this book to the students and the faculty of the Academy—for they make it what it is.

THE AFFILIATION
DR. WILLIAM ZAPCIC
TO THE
CHRISTIAN BROTHERS

FEBRUARY 21, 1971

Through his religious consecration, a Christian Brother chooses to live in community and to dedicate himself to the education of youth.

Some men, though not living the Brothers' community life, are made honorary members of the Institute of the Brothers of the Christian Schools. These men, at great personal sacrifice of time and energy, have participated in the work of the Brothers and deserve to share in the rich spiritual rewards of the apostolate.

As a mark of high esteem in which these men are held, the Christian Brothers are happy to confer the title of "Affiliated Brother."

Today, we affiliate, Brother William Zapcic, M.D., who has shown by thought, word and deed the ideals expected of a brother. As a Christian he has responded to the community as a witness; his response has been so total that the Institute affiliates him and makes him part of the Brothers' witness of Christ.

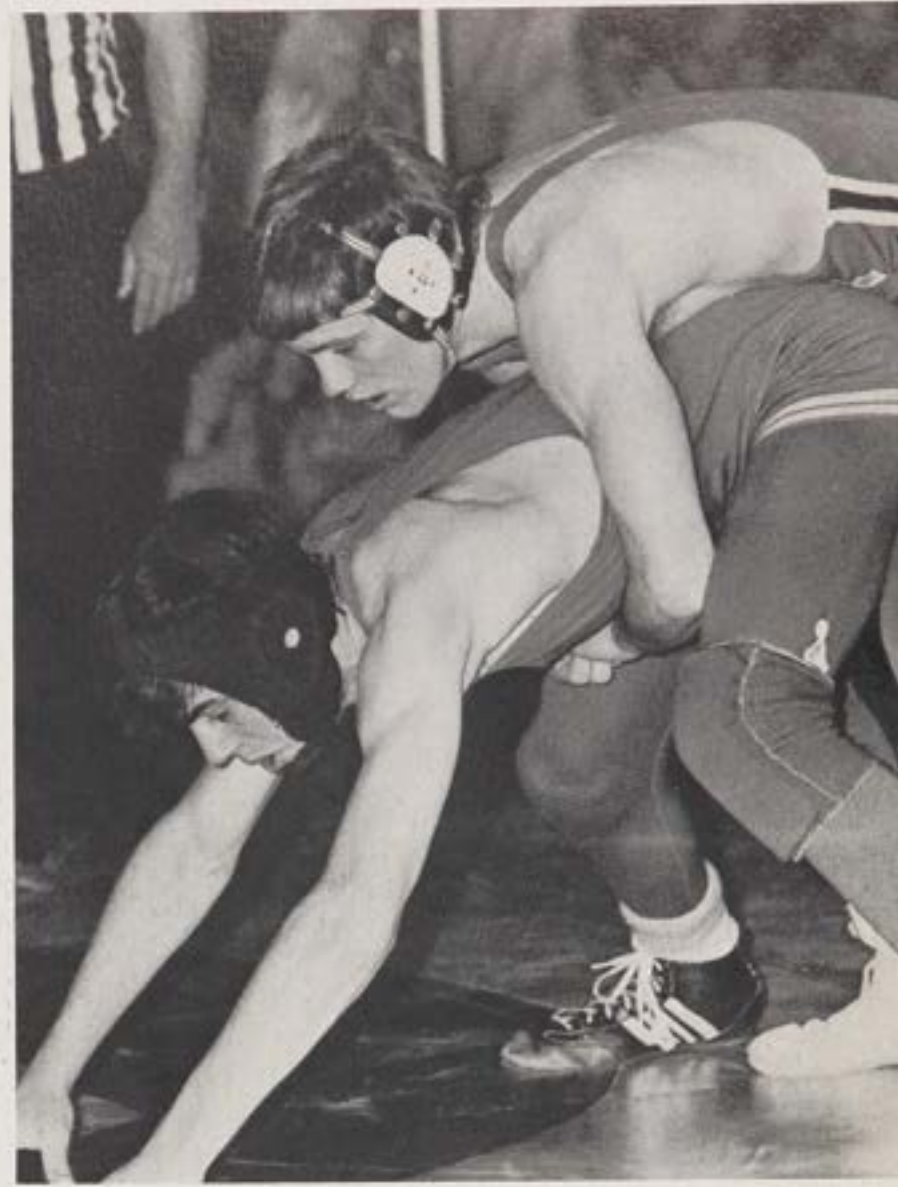

Truly, he fulfills our Rule in that: "This ideal becomes a reality when the Brothers as a community create an atmosphere which makes a truly Christian education possible. The community is not closed in upon itself but extends its services to all students and to the whole field of education; it helps to free the young from their self-centeredness and encourages them to give of themselves generously. The witness given by the members of the community to the love they have one for another is itself a lesson in the faith, calling to mind the words of Christ, 'That they all may be one so that the world may believe.'"

A Note from the Editor . . .

In order to put together a book such as this one, an editor becomes indebted to many people. I would like to take this opportunity to express my sincere appreciation to:

All of the PATRONS, without whom this yearbook would not have been possible.

MR. THOMAS EVERETT and the many other STAFF MEMBERS of the RAE PUBLISHING COMPANY, for their advice and encouragement, which contributed greatly to the quality of the book.

MR. JACK LAMBERT and the STAFF MEMBERS of the LORSTAN-THOMAS STUDIOS, for their fine photographic work.

MR. DOM GRAZIANO, representative for the S. K. SMITH COMPANY, for his suggestions and labor on our cover design.

The FACULTY MEMBERS who were so helpful to the staff.

Our two moderators, BROTHER RAYMOND LEECH and BROTHER RAYMOND ANTILOK, whose criticism and suggestions were appreciated.

All of my photographers, whose work helped make the book successful. Special thanks to RICH O'CONNELL for his work on the Pegasus staff photo.

MARK LANDERS, my co-editor, who came up with some great ideas for the book.

And certainly I can't forget my entire STAFF, who put up with me long enough to make the 1971 Pegasus the best ever. I wish them the best of luck with next year's publication.
