IN MEMORIAM

The memory of the late Brother James Dobson will always endure in the hearts and minds of the twenty-third graduating class. His many accomplishments and exemplary life serves as a reminder of what a Christian truly is.

The prestige and reputation of C.B.A. has grown with the many contributions of Bro. James. In 1969 he came to C.B.A. with an inexhaustible amount of energy to serve others. His vast knowledge of Physics and Chemistry was passed on to many students. This, however, did not keep him complacent, and with the advent of the computer age, he began the C.B.A. computer department. From a small room in Benilde Hall, Bro. James worked on a few broken computers. Today we see the fruits of his work in McKenna Hall. All of this has commanded the respect for his work as an educator and teacher.

Outside the classroom Bro. James showed his unique talent as the all around mechanic and troubleshooter. For our yearbook he contributed frequently with photos of all kinds of school events. Copies of Pegasus of past years are flooded with his pictures. When the play needed a better sound system in the Gymnasium, Bro. James refurbished the audio equipment. Many of his peers also admired him for his helpfulness. Besides teaching high school students, Bro. James spent much of his time teaching adults. The administration often turned to him for guidance and advice too. In a word, Bro. James was a giver, who answered any call for assistance.

Most of us at Christian Brothers have known Bro. James only for a short period of time, but during this time we were able to know how much of a friend and caring teacher he really was. His sensitivity touched all of us. In the classroom, he was a serious and positive motivating force. This image was quickly supplanted by the lightheartedness he showed when cheering for us on the playing fields after school. In these two images we saw reflected the deep desire he had for all of us to improve and become our best. For him the student came first.

Faith never was lacking in Brother James. We at C.B.A. admired his work, but loved him as a man of Christ. Although he is gone, his memory lives on.

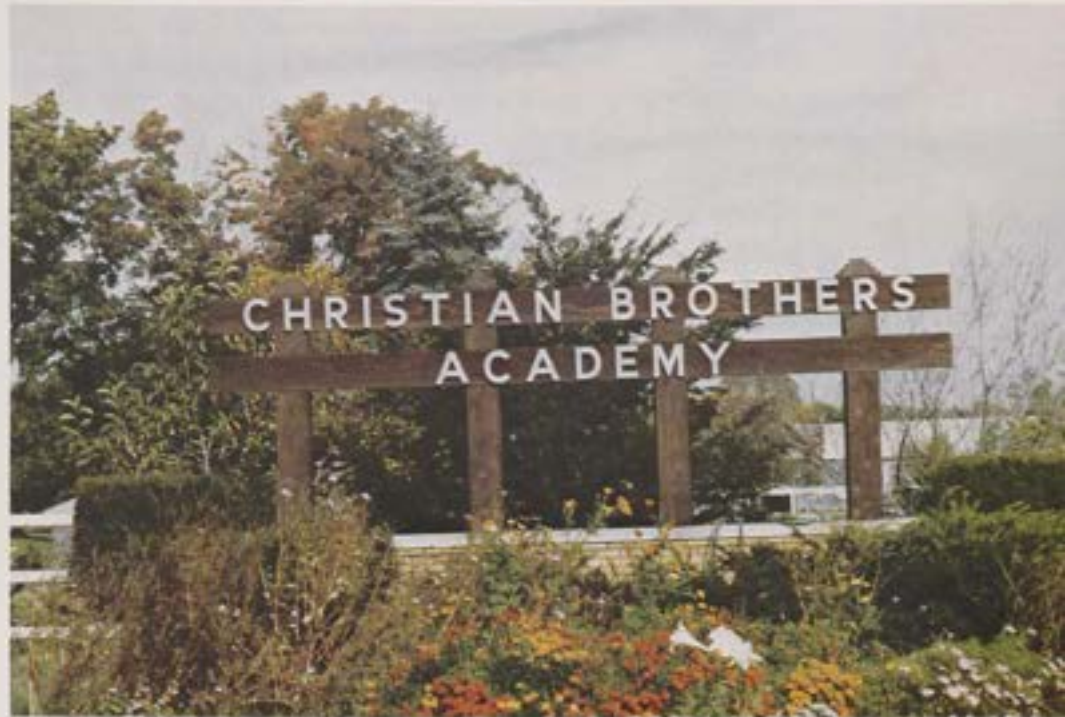

DEDICATION

The 23rd Graduating class of Christian Brothers Academy takes great pride in dedicating the 1985 PEGASUS to the school itself. The Academy has fostered the education of Shore area students for the past 25 years and it is fitting that on its 25th Anniversary we dedicate this book to our school and to all those who have been a part of its history and who will be a part of its future.

Back in early 1958, a group of area laymen, headed by Mr. John C. Henderson, Mr. Peter E. Fleming, and Dr. George A. Sheehan, realized that there was a need here in Monmouth County for another Catholic high school. They began a fund drive to raise money for the purchase of a piece of property, with the blessings of Bishop George W. Ahr. Under their provincial, Brother Anthony John Halpin, the Christian Brothers agreed to staff the school and finance its construction.

A sprawling stable which at one time had sheltered some of the finest thoroughbred horses in the country was about to become an academy for boys by the Christian Brothers. The once famous Whitney Greentree Stables was bought by the Brothers for an estimated $400,000. The stable property included 157 acres of land with 9 very usable buildings, one of which was converted into what is now Henderson Hall.

The sign that graces the entrance.

Bishop Ahr blesses the school.

144 students were accepted to the Academy for the first semester of school, beginning in September of 1959. With a newly converted 8 classroom building and 6 Brothers, the tradition of academic excellence in the Shore area began.

Already the Brothers had high aspirations for their new school, as plans were being drawn up for the construction of the main building. Two years after the opening of Henderson Hall, the construction began. The main building was to house a modern school with 3 science labs, 15 classrooms, a gymnasium, cafeteria and chapel, plus the administrative offices.

With the construction of the main building complete, enrollment was increased and C.B.A. was on its way!

The horses are gone, but not forgotten.

Br. Bernard walking through the halls he helped to form.

Throughout the Academy's history, academics and extracurricular activities have always played an important role in student life. Whether in the classroom or on the playing fields, C.B.A. students have always been encouraged to give their very best.

It has always been the philosophy of the Academy to provide a strong academic education and to help students realize each individual's unique qualities and potential. The faculty and administration are committed to helping students develop the skills and Christian values necessary for personal growth and for making a responsible contribution to society.

At C.B.A. the whole individual is developed through a well rounded education that provides a strong moral core and offers a rich, intellectual; and artistic curriculum.

Through an extensive sports program, students participate at either the varsity or intramural level, developing good sportsmanship and a sense of school spirit and pride. We all take pride in our great varsity teams that have brought a winning tradition to the Academy. Of course, at the root of that tradition is our dedicated coaching staff.

The early Henderson Hall.

Extracurricular activities are abundant and offer a great deal of variety. From Martial Arts club to the play or to perhaps Computer club or even the Math team, there is always something for everyone.

And now as we're celebrating the Silver Anniversary of the opening of C.B.A., we are again looking to the future with the recent launching of Project 80's. We are looking forward to the expansion of our present facilities to include a new wing with plans for new classrooms, offices, chapel, computer lab, and a 300 seat auditorium. Henderson Hall will be redesigned and renovated for the use as a cultural center including a fine arts studio, gallery, music room and a small theatre.

C.B.A. has dominated sports since its inception.

As we look back upon the last 25 years of Academy life, we see the growth of a school from its humble beginnings to its present day achievement of placing among the top 60 private schools in the nation. Like our school, we too have grown through the experience that is C.B.A.

In celebration of Christian Brothers Academy's 25th Anniversary, the new wing and auditorium will be ready for school opening in September, 1985.

Project 80's, a $2.5 million, development program, began in 1982 as the vision of our founders started to become a reality. The new wing will house our freshman and include a chapel, computer center, earth science room, faculty lounge and seven classrooms. The 300 seat auditorium will be used for C.B.A.'s music, art and dramatic programs.

Over $1,700,000 has been pledged by the parents, alumni and special friends of C.B.A. With less than $1 million to go, we thank all of you for the continued support and loyalty that you have shown the Christian Brothers. As construction nears completion, we can take pride in C.B.A.'s efforts to meet the challenges of the future and maintain the standards of academic excellence for generations to come.

READING AND WRITING

The Academy's English Department offers students a well-rounded program of study designed to prepare students for college. The English Department features a diversified selection of courses, each designed to challenge the student while he learns.

In Freshmen year everyone takes English I, it is here that students are introduced to college-prep. level English work. In English I, basic literary appreciation and writing skills are stressed, as well as comprehensive reviews of grammar, vocabulary, and the principles of language.

In Sophomore year everyone takes English II. Here the concentration is in the areas of American Literature, writing, vocabulary study, and grammar.

In Junior year students are given the option of phase III or phase IV English. Both courses cover basically the same material; the phase III course however is more in depth. In Junior year, English Literature is covered as well as the fundamental principles of writing the research paper and precis. Also Junior year English covers areas of grammar, vocabulary, and speech.

In Senior year students have the option of four English courses; English IV, Advanced Placement English, Project Advance, and the Advanced Philosophy Seminar. These courses hone the student to the requirements of college level English work.

Some specialty courses offered by the English department are Journalism and Cultural Arts.

Journalism is a workshop course whose main function is to publish The Torch and The Torch Fortnightly. This course provides students with the opportunity to practice their creative writing skills.

Cultural Arts introduces students to art, music, and the theater, with an emphasis on appreciation. This course helps to further develop the well-rounded C.B.A. student.

Scientifically Speaking

Here at Christian Brothers Academy, one of the major strengths of the curriculum is the science department. The science department offers courses in Earth Science, Biology, Chemistry, Physics, and Environmental Issues. For exceptional students, college credit can be obtained from Advanced Placement Biology.

This year the science department added Mr. Hrycenko to the staff. He teaches the A.P. Biology course and several Chemistry classes. With this addition and the continued effort of the returning staff, the Science department hopes to reinforce its position as one of the strongest departments at C.B.A.

The Religion Department
 The Religion department at C.B.A. provides personal and spiritual support. The staff includes long time members such as Mr. Patrick Scott, Bro. Robert Berger, and Mr. Ronald Boro, department chairman. The staff is rounded out by Miss Patricia Tracey, Mr. Garry Koch, and Mr. Bernard Krzan.

A new addition to the staff is Mr. Gregory Higgins. Mr. Higgins graduated from C.B.A. in 1978. The C.B.A. community is glad to have him back.

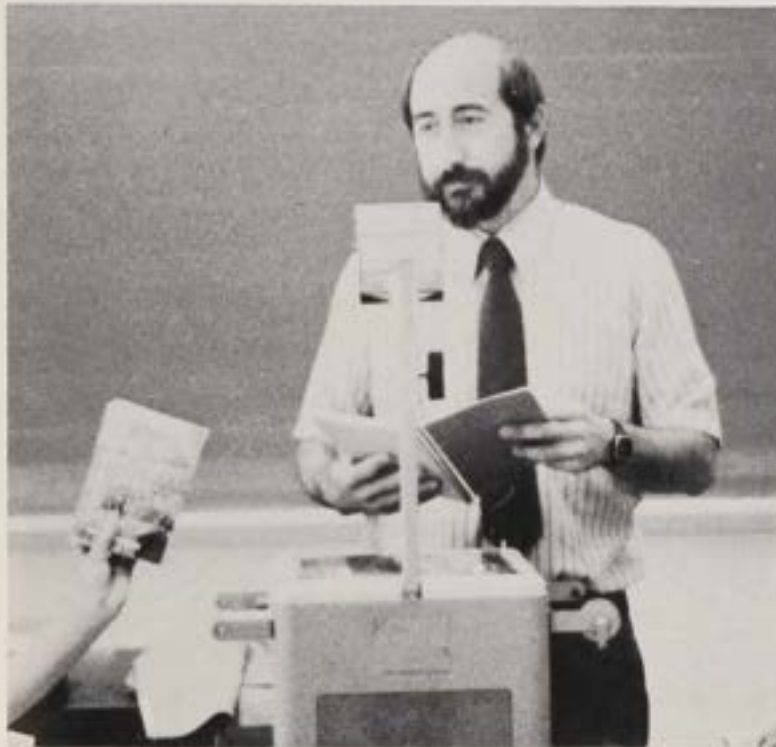

The course outline for the freshmen includes developing an understanding of one's self and how you fit into the Christian community. The year is ended with an overview of Christianity which prepares the student for the next year's studies.

The first semester of Sophomore year is spent developing one's spirituality and learning how to meditate. Discussion of the Hebrew scriptures is the basis of the second semesters work. Wilderness awareness is the subject of the Sophomore retreat.

The junior year is broken into two parts. The first semester consists of gaining an understanding of the New Testament. The meaning of Jesus Christ is the topic of the second semester. Developing one's Christianity is discussed on the Junior retreat.

The Seniors are offered many options for their religion course. Among them are GURU Religion, Christian Service, and Religion 4. The Senior retreat is an expansion on the Junior retreat.

—HISTORY DEPARTMENT—

In freshmen year, the CBA student first encounters the department when he takes World History. During the next two years, the students complete their required state credits by taking U.S. History I and U.S. History II.

In senior year, the students may select from a variety of courses which are one-semester electives, they include: Accounting, Economics, American Government, Sociology and Psychology. These courses give the student some practical knowledge which can be applied in everyday life.

One of the strengths of the department has been the continued success of the advanced placement program. Courses are offered in both American and European History. Through the efforts of Bro. Gregory O'Rourke, our students have consistently scored well in the Tests of National Ability.

The department takes great pride in its members achievements not only in the classrooms, but also in co-curricular activities. Each member believes a student's total education here at CBA includes academic, athletic, social and spiritual influence by the faculty.

Computers — A CBA History

Fifteen years ago, a small room in Benilde Hall contained a telephone which connected 5 or 6 terminals to a main frame somewhere in Red Bank. A small computer room and a single course in Basic programming under the supervision of our recently deceased Br. James Dobson, was a show-place and the pride of CBA. Each terminal then was simultaneously used by two or three students. Br. James soon acquired an on site mainframe.

As interest and enthusiasm grew he worked to see two rooms in McKenna Hall outfitted with a classroom and a 45 micro-computer. Courses now include Basic, Advanced Basic, Pascal, and Advanced Pascal.

With our move to the new wing in September a modern lecture room, and computer lab, planned by Br. James, will handle courses ranging from Word Processing for freshmen to Advanced Placement Pascal for seniors and will stand as a tribute to the foresight and devotion to education of our beloved Br. James Dobson.

A LOOK BACK

Mr. Gregory Higgins, a graduate of the class of 1978, and a new Faculty member, shares with us his thoughts on the C.B.A. experience as both a student and a teacher.

Despite the changes in the faculty, the student body, and the building itself, I have the impression that the CBA I left seven years ago is, in many ways, not unlike the CBA I now see as a teacher. My fondest memories of CBA are of the friendships which were made in the classroom and in the gym, in school and out of school. In 1978, it was Tim O'Grady, Andy Daniele, and Steve Driscoll, and many others who made CBA a special place for me. Now I teach Steve's younger brother, Christopher. In 1985, I see the same camaraderie, the same spirit. The hallways, the cafeteria, and the playing fields are all places where I find once again that CBA binds students together in friendship.

CBA, for me, was a place where a number of teachers challenged me to ask certain questions about life. These questions still grasp me and I still search for the answers. One such teacher who sparked my imagination and challenged me to rethink my answer was Mr. Ron Boro. Now I am his colleague and I am still learning from him. From my conversations with the students, I can see that many of them have been similarly impressed by a given teacher's enthusiasm for his or her subject matter.

CBA, for me, was a place where I was reminded that Jesus should live in our hearts . . . forever. In the midst of deciding what college to attend, or what assignment to do next, I was also asked to reflect on what it means to be a Christian. It was for that purpose that CBA was founded and it remains today the reason for our existence.

Since returning to CBA, I have gained a deeper appreciation for the dedication that so many men and women have for their students, to teaching, and to CBA. The dedication which the parents, the Brothers, and the faculty have to the school remains a quiet witness to the special quality that CBA possesses. Br. Bernard McKenna, Br. Andrew Valentine, Mr. John O'Shea, Mr. Tony Chesney, and Mr. Vinnie Cox have been with CBA throughout most, if not all, of its twenty-five years and there are countless others whose years of service have contributed to the life of CBA.

Finally, I find a great sense of loyalty to CBA among most of the alumni. We feel a certain pride and sense of belonging which ties us to CBA long after graduation. It is that sense of belonging which draws so many alumni back to teach at CBA and which fills us with hope for the coming twenty-five years.

GOLDEN JUBILEE

This past September marked the 50th Anniversary of two dedicated brothers here at C.B.A. Brother Charles O'Hanlon and Brother James Sullivan celebrated their golden jubilee in the Brotherhood on September 7, 1984.

In September of 1934, both Brother Charles and Brother James enrolled in St. Joseph's Institute in Barrytown, New York. At St. Joseph's they each spent one year in the Novitiate, a trial period in the brotherhood before the brothers take their final vows. Upon finishing their novitiate year, the two attended Catholic University in Washington, D.C.

From Catholic University, Brother Charles went on to teach at such schools as Sacred Heart School in the Bronx, Holy Name School in Manhattan and La Salle Academy in New York. Throughout his teaching career, Brother Charles has taught students on the elementary and secondary school levels. He arrived at C.B.A. in 1973 and from that time on has worked in the finance office and as Moderator of the Father's Club.

After graduating from Catholic University, Brother James also went on to teach. His teaching career has taken him to such schools as Bishop Loughlin High School in Brooklyn, Christian Brothers Academy in Albany and the La Salle Military Academy in Long Island. In 1974, Brother James arrived here at C.B.A. He presently works as a librarian and as moderator of the chess team.

There was a mass to honor the brother's jubilee that was celebrated by the most reverend, John C. Reiss, Bishop of Trenton. The jubilee mass took place on April 27, 1985 at St. Catherine's Church, Holmdel. It was a fitting way to honor the brothers for the dedication of their lives to God for the past 50 years, with service to the young through education.

The tradition of the freshman run dates back to the first years of Christian Brothers Academy. The first freshman run was held on November 17th, 1960. The winner was John Homlish with the time of 7:31. Brother Basilian O'Connell was the first cross country coach, as well as the founder of the freshman run. This year for the 25th anniversary of Christian Brothers Academy, Brother Basilian fired the starting gun just as he had done in the past. The record holder for the fastest time in the freshman run is present senior Bill Kolb, who ran 7:07.2 in 1981. The second fastest time was run by this year's freshman, Matt Mitchell. His time was 7:10.7 for the course.

The Freshman Field Day held this year was, as usual, a day of great fun and games. The origin of the Field Day goes back to 1973 and has become a C.B.A. tradition. Each year it is run by the Student Council. The Council serves up a gourmet meal of grilled hamburgers and soda. The day is filled with homeroom competition in various sporting events, such as volleyball, basketball, obstacle course races, and bag races. The Seniors serve as coaches and supporters in the intra-homeroom competition. The Field Day serves as a way for freshmen to become acquainted with each other and to begin to feel a part of the C.B.A. community. It is always a great day and one that Freshmen remember with fond memories.

THE CANONIZATION OF BROTHER MIGUEL

On October 1984, Brother Miguel Febres Cordero was declared a saint by Pope John Paul II, amid all the ecclesiastical pomp and splendor surrounding the Rite of Canonization.

Brother Miguel, one of the Brothers' first students in Ecuador, was born as Francisco Febres Cordero on November 7, 1854 in Cuenca, a small town outside of Quito. He entered the Brotherhood upon reaching the age of 14, and from that time on served God and man as a teacher and scholar.

At the young age of 17, Brother Miguel published what would be the first of many textbooks of Spanish grammar and went on to teach for 32 years in the Brothers' El Cebollar School in Quito. Later as the young Brother's brilliance was realized, the Ecuadorean government adopted many of his texts of Spanish grammar for use throughout the entire country. Brother Miguel was later commissioned to revise his books for use in a variety of Spanish-speaking nations.

Each year, for more than three decades, Brother Miguel found no greater pleasure than to help the young children of Quito prepare for their first Holy Communion. He wrote many manuals of piety for them, and occasional hymns, all to help the children realize what a wonderful thing they were undertaking. Brother Miguel gave them their religious instruction and conducted many retreats.

He faithfully served the Christian Brothers in Belgium and Barcelona, Spain, where he died on February 9, 1910 of a long term illness.

When his body was returned to Ecuador, there was considerable public ceremony, and on the centenary of his birth, he was honored by the Ecuadorean government with the issuance of postage stamps and the erection of a monument in his honor.

The occasion of his canonization brought dignitaries and Christian Brothers from around the world, to honor this truly great man. Brother Andrew O'Gara represented the Academy at the Canonization while Brothers John Griffin and James Sullivan went as representatives for the Christian Brothers' Province of New York and New Jersey.

Saint Brother Miguel is the third member of the Brothers of the Christian Schools to become a saint. The founder of the Brothers, Saint John Baptist de La Salle was canonized in 1900 while Saint Brother Benildus of France was canonized in 1967.

Brother Miguel was truly a man of Christ and faith, and his life was one which exemplified saintliness. His life should be an example to all of us to be as successful as we can but also not to lose sight of our Christian values.

SAINT JOHN BAPTIST DE LA SALLE, PRAY FOR US.

SAINT BROTHER BENILDUS, PRAY FOR US.

SAINT BROTHER MIGUEL, PRAY FOR US.

LIVE JESUS IN OUR HEARTS, FOREVER.

RETREATS

This year the incoming freshmen, as in previous years were given an experience they more than likely had never had before. This experience was the retreat. This year the freshman retreat was combined with the student council's field day. The retreat and the field day are supposed to do the same thing, let the students get to know each other and themselves. Although rain disrupted the field day the retreat went along as planned and hopefully, for those involved, enjoyably. This year's sophomores went on retreat to a wilderness awareness center. The director of the center tried to help them become more aware of nature and themselves. For the sophomores it was their first retreat in small groups, 25 to 30 students being the norm. The retreat worked well and in most cases was enjoyable and helpful. The junior retreat is designed to help the juniors understand their relationship with God and their friends and relatives. The senior retreat is the only overnight retreat. This retreat goes deeper into the same subjects as the junior retreat. Overall it can be said the retreats are an enjoyable and helpful part of maturing at C.B.A.

STUDENT AWARENESS

Again, as in past years, C.B.A. students exemplified what it meant to be Catholic-Christians, as they took an active role in reaching out to others and showing that they care.

This year the students participated actively in a variety of ways which benefitted the less fortunate overseas as well as the less fortunate at our own backdoor.

The first major activity that Academy students participated in was the Thanksgiving Food Drive which netted over $1000 dollars and brought in many boxes of dry food. This in turn was used to help those less fortunate of our area and perhaps spread a little holiday cheer to those who probably would have had none.

When reports were received about the famine in Ethiopia, C.B.A. students were again on hand to help the poor, starving people of that devastated nation. A drive was inaugurated at the Academy and more than $1500 dollars was raised by the faculty and student body. This money was in turn sent to the Catholic Relief Services Fund for Ethiopia and hopefully was able to ease some of the effects of the famine.

A little closer to home C.B.A. participated in the Hand-in-Hand Festival and the Hand-in-Hand Basketball game, both of which benefitted the kids afflicted with mental retardation. There were many students who participated in the Multiple Sclerosis Word Encounter which raises funds for the research of this terrible crippling disease which attacks kids our own age.

For these reasons the Academy's faculty and student body truly deserve to be called people who "reach out and touch someone."

THE ACADEMY STRUTS ITS STUFF

OPEN HOUSE '84

An Open House is held at Christian Brothers Academy every year in October. It offers grade school students a chance to get a good look at the opportunities available to them at C.B.A. Present students volunteer their time and effort to guide incoming freshmen around the campus. While highlighting the science and computer labs along with Henderson Hall, the library, cafeteria, and gym are also shown. The primary reason for the Open House is to depict the Christian atmosphere of the school. The actions of the student guides always portray a spirit of caring which is uncommon to other schools.

MEMORIES of 85 Class

The Pegasus Editorial staff would like to recount some of the memorable events of the class of 1985. It would be impossible to include everyone's experiences. However, none of us will forget certain events that made Christian Brothers Academy special.

Freshman year was a time of adjustment and began a new era in our lives. Our first memorable experience was the Freshmen Run. Most of us thought of it as a one and a half mile torture test, but Bill Kolb seemed to enjoy it setting a record time for the run. Traveling from class to class was also a test of endurance. Henderson Hall sometimes seemed so far away from the main building, especially in the winter. Of course our freshman class had to weather the fiercest winter in years.

After getting adjusted, though, we learned of the many advantages of a CBA education. In room 1, many of us enjoyed study hall for the first time. Friends were easy to make at CBA thanks to the Freshman Field Day. Homeroom battled homeroom in tug-of-war over a mud pool. In the classroom we learned words such as "number next" in algebra with Brother Bernard and "grammar land" with Mr. Double T himself. For those who took Earth Science we shall always remember Mr. McLaughlin's rocks. In 1982 many of us took religion for the first time. With those strange gurus of senior year we began our long road to maturity.

Sophomore year was another period of change, growth, and fond memories. Cultural Arts was one of the most invigorating experiences of that year. Miss Coonrod had the incredible task of converting us to civilized people with the proper taste in the arts. Bro. Tim's pokey became an institution that many of us were familiar with. Though many of us spent time in room 22, the room we all grew to love was room 37. We learned that the study hall was not just a place for studying. Sophomore religion was also a peculiar class. Miss Tracey somehow got us to stare at a ceiling and meditate like a buddhist monk.

Junior year was filled with frantic studying as we finally listened to Bro. Peter. Taking the SAT and PSAT were among our most dreaded ways to spend a morning. School was not filled with all work though. A mandatory class we all had to take was with the big ace himself, Mr. Chesney. We learned important facts about CPR. None of us will forget there are 600+ muscles and 206 bones in our body. Another teacher we all loved and admired was Bro. Robert. Most of us had him either for math or religion. At room 13 (affectionately known as the zone) we learned to work with an unusual classmate, Elmo.

Junior year ended with two events. The junior prom was held at the Homestead, and everyone had a great time. The rowdiest student council election was held. Posters filled every possible space on the walls. Many of us voted so poor souls could get into college. The most peculiar incident of the election was the actual decision of who was president. Mike Keegan became our president for 24 hours. Later, he was replaced by Jim Hempstead after a recount, but this was only temporary. The vote was so close that finally both became our president. Thus, the election ended our zany junior year.

By the beginning of our senior year many of us were familiar with the faculty of the various CBA departments. Who can forget Mr. McKenn's English Class? A typical assignment book of a student in his class went like this; vocab. test Mon., N.Y. Times read Tues., grammar quiz Weds., and Norton's Anthology P. 104-345 due on Thurs. Our CBA math experience, though diverse, has one common denominator, Bro. Christian. He taught us principles of limit, probability, trig functions, and all that fun stuff. Nothing was trivial in his class. Those of us on the math team will not forget how Bro Christian made us practice. The practices paid off though. The math team won so many trophies that they couldn't all fit in the trophy case that a new one had to be bought. Way to go Brother!!!

From struggling with a Foreign Language to mastering the concepts of Computer Language to assimilating the concepts and principles of Science, History and all of the other disciplines — these are the things that have bonded us together as a class.

The memories of senior year are still being made and we cannot record them. We can, however, use what we learned at CBA to continue creating our own memories. Good Luck to all the seniors, the class of '85.

Colt's Soccer 1984

The Colts season for the CBA Colts was very successful. The Colts swept through the season right up to the Shore Conference tournament. They shut out Toms River for the title. The teams offensive attack was led by Jamie Raymond (15 goals), and Eric Hlava (14 goals), and Brad Johnson (18 goals). The midfield was ruled by Dave Santos and Jim O'Connor. The Colt defense was the strongest ever with Brian Rogers and Dave Montani as fullbacks. Ray Purdon had a CBA record eighteen shutouts, and only gave up 24 goals. For the season the Colts had 21 wins, 2 losses and one tie.

The 1984-1985 Colt basketball team was spectacular, as usual. The Colt's offense was led by Seniors Joe Paterno and Craig Gorczyca. Joe Paterno, who scored over 1,000 points during his High School career, received the Kerwin Award for his outstanding play. The defense was led by Juniors Andy Hendrickson, and Brian Spellman along with the all-around outstanding play of Sophomore John Crotty. The bench provided added strength with Steve Paterno, Mike Neff, and John Ziemski all contributing. The team's victories include: a sweep through the Holiday Jubilee Festival, both the North and South A State Championships, and the Shore Conference Championship which has been won for the last three years.

Indoor 1984-85

The 1984-85 Indoor Track team was one of the best in the history of C.B.A. The team captured its 6th consecutive State Championship. It was first in the State Relays, and also in the Shore Relays. Much of the team's strength came from the sprinters, especially Rich O'Day, Mike Hirsch, and Jim Vickers. The distance runners were very competitive with Jim Hickey, Bill Kolb, Bill Barrett, Bill O'Sullivan, and John Alexanian leading the way. In addition, Joe Giani, Tim Bracken, and Phil Foti powered the weight team to one of its most successful seasons. In all, the 1984-85 Indoor Track team proved that C.B.A. can remain a dominant force in track year after year.

C.B.A. RACQUETEERS

25 YEARS OF A LEGEND

The Tennis team of CBA has enjoyed great success throughout its history. The team has won 15 Parochial Group Titles and 5 overall State Championships. Between 1979 and 1984, the Tennis team won 143 straight matches. This streak was the second longest in state history. The team is currently defending champions of the Shore Conference Championship and the Parochial A South Title.

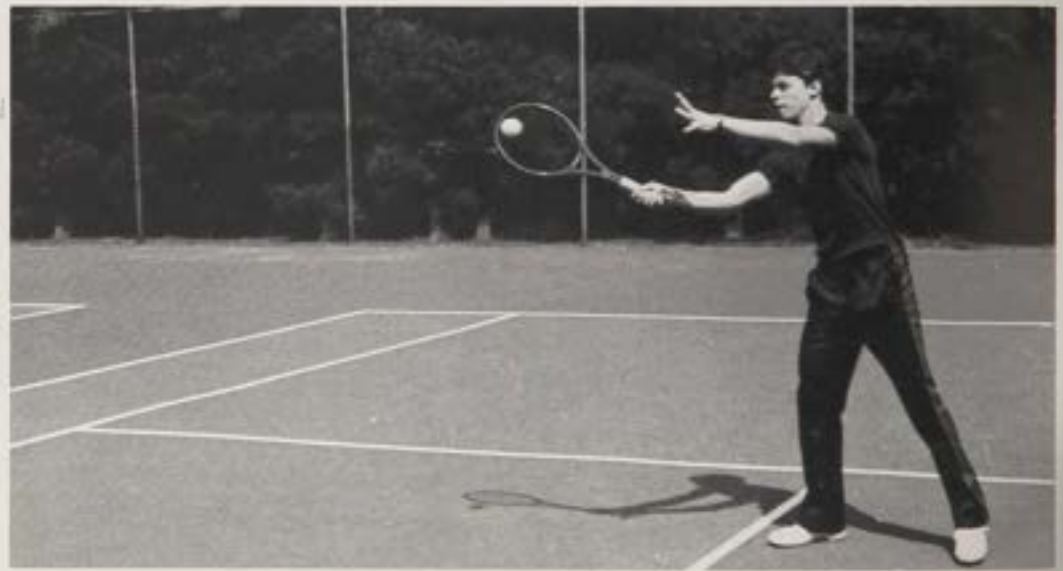

The CBA Tennis team was first organized in 1962 by Brother Denise McGovern. Since then, it has flourished under the able coaching of Brother Patrick Martin, in the Sixties, Mr. John O'Shea in the Seventies, and the present Head Coach, Mr. Dan Keane.

The Tennis team of Christian Brothers Academy has established a dynasty that has become "legendary" throughout the school's community. We all wish them the best of luck in continuing their legacy in the years to come.

The Arister

One of the various literary activities of C.B.A. is the publication of The Arister magazine. This activity gives the student the opportunity to write and publish his work. This enables the student to show his creativity to his readers. Latent talents in writing and artwork have been discovered in many students' works. This year the moderator of The Arister is Mr. Fili, who led his staff through a difficult, yet rewarding experience.

THE WHOVIANS

Hey, wanna Jelly-baby?

This year, many C.B.A. students have heard the words 'Doctor Who' pervading the school. Just who exactly is this 'Doctor'; and why has he caused such a stir at C.B.A.?

Twenty-two years ago, in Britain, the BBC decided to produce a new science-fiction program involving a man, the Doctor, who travels through Time and Space with several companions in a machine called the TARDIS. Furthermore, this 'Doctor' periodically 'regenerates', or changes his appearance and personality, thus giving the show an unending sense of novelty and change.

This, then, is the basic premise of 'Doctor Who.' It is a program which appeals to all ages and yet does so without any of the excessive sex, violence, etc. which American commercial networks deem so important.

The C.B.A. chapter of the D.W.F.C.A. (a national appreciation society) is devoted to the promotion of the show in America, and, more importantly, the support of the local PBS stations that broadcast it. The C.B.A. Guardians do this by showing taped serials, organizing trips to conventions, and helping out WHY and WNJT, our local stations, with their occasional pledge drives. Presently we have about 25 members, and look forward to many more successful years.

Below: "Where does it say, 'To be or not to be'?"

In the untiring attempt to present excellence in theatre, the Pegasus Players have performed Joseph And The Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat. This year's production proved to be a remarkably risky but rewarding experiment. First, the play took place on the gym floor in the round, rather than the proscenium stage. The results were more creative staging by director Karin Coonrod, energetic choreography from Miss Iseicz, and better and more inventive sound and lighting, both supervised by Mr. Koch. Secondly, Joseph is a complete musical; there is no dialogue in the play. With the strong yet gazelle-like voices of leads Joseph Giani and Nairi Checkosky, solid support of agile Brothers, angelic voices of the nymph-like Adoring Girls, and quality musical direction of Walter Tambor, Joseph was an experience of tremendous spirit, life, and beauty. The play was enhanced by the fine accompaniment of the orchestra under the direction of Miss DeMichele, and the variety of props, including an unforgettable camel, produced by the Stage Crew, led by the fearless Miss Carroll.

The success of Joseph was the result of hard work and dedication of many people. The play, which is based on the story in Genesis, reflected the talent which was put into it. (Who can forget the comedy and style of Michael Wirin or the unleashed essence of Elvis in Patrick McGovern?) The alacrity of spirit in the players and overwhelming enthusiasm of audiences made Joseph And The Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat more than a play for dreamers.

—Walter Tambor—

INDIRA
GANDHI

BRUCE SPRINGSTEEN MADE IN THE U.S.A. BORN IN THE U.S.A.

Finally, I can lock the doors to Benilde Hall and not return there again. But, before I go, I must thank those people that made up such a vital part in the final production of the 1985 Pegasus. First, I would like to thank Mr. Tim Triche, our Faculty advisor, for always supporting us when there was a conflict and for always making arrangements to make my job easier. He will never experience a group of "contributors" like us again and for this he must be happy. Secondly, I would like to thank Mr. Dave Schofield, the Delmar Publishing Co. representative. Although he is not pictured in this book he held no grudges and was always coming up with new ideas and making sure our pages come out the way we wanted. He had to suffer through dealing with our staff but it was only our way of repaying him for making us listen to his jokes. Finally, I want to thank Mr. Mike Mazzochi of Portraits by Michael for his very prompt and professional photography.

If there was no staff you would now be holding a small disorganized leaflet, but, seeing that you are not, I must have had a very dedicated staff. I did. I want to thank my Assistant Editor Ed Cooner for always showing up when I least expected him and helping us meet deadlines. Also in this space I would like to thank Ed Chu and Ed Iuliano for their great job on the Senior section. They were faced with an unenviable amount of work in order that we would meet our second deadline, and pulled through in the clutch with all of their pages.

I also owe many thanks to all of the section editors who made sure that deadlines were met. Owen Resh was able to finish the Organizations section while also working off-campus and was a great help in meeting our last deadline. Mark Warren made sure the Faculty section was going along smoothly and did a great job. Dan Le Roy made sure he got all of the scores for Sports and laid out those pages with impeccable precision. Glenn Grossman pulled through with Student Life pages whenever a deadline had to be met. Walter Tambor and Tim Moloney made sure that the Underclassmen section was perfect and kept the pictures in alphabetical order.

The Photography staff once again provided us with great shots. Sean Connolly was always taking pictures for the book and was always willing to go out on a limb (literally) to get pictures. Without his expertise there would be 256 blank pages in this book with a copy here or there. Thanks to Sean the book is full of great pictures. I would also like to thank Mr. Tony Chesney for providing us with photographs when we desperately needed them, as did Bro. Dominic Gisondo and Mr. Bill Bruno.

9 months and over 200 pages after we started, the staff can now look at a publication they created. The Yearbook office was a complete mess, but we still managed to meet deadlines. I would like to thank a certain Miss America who always was the butt of our jokes and could fill the office with laughter. Hopefully this book will never go through a recycling machine, but will instead serve as a reminder of our fun times and will give us some "Glory Days" to remember.

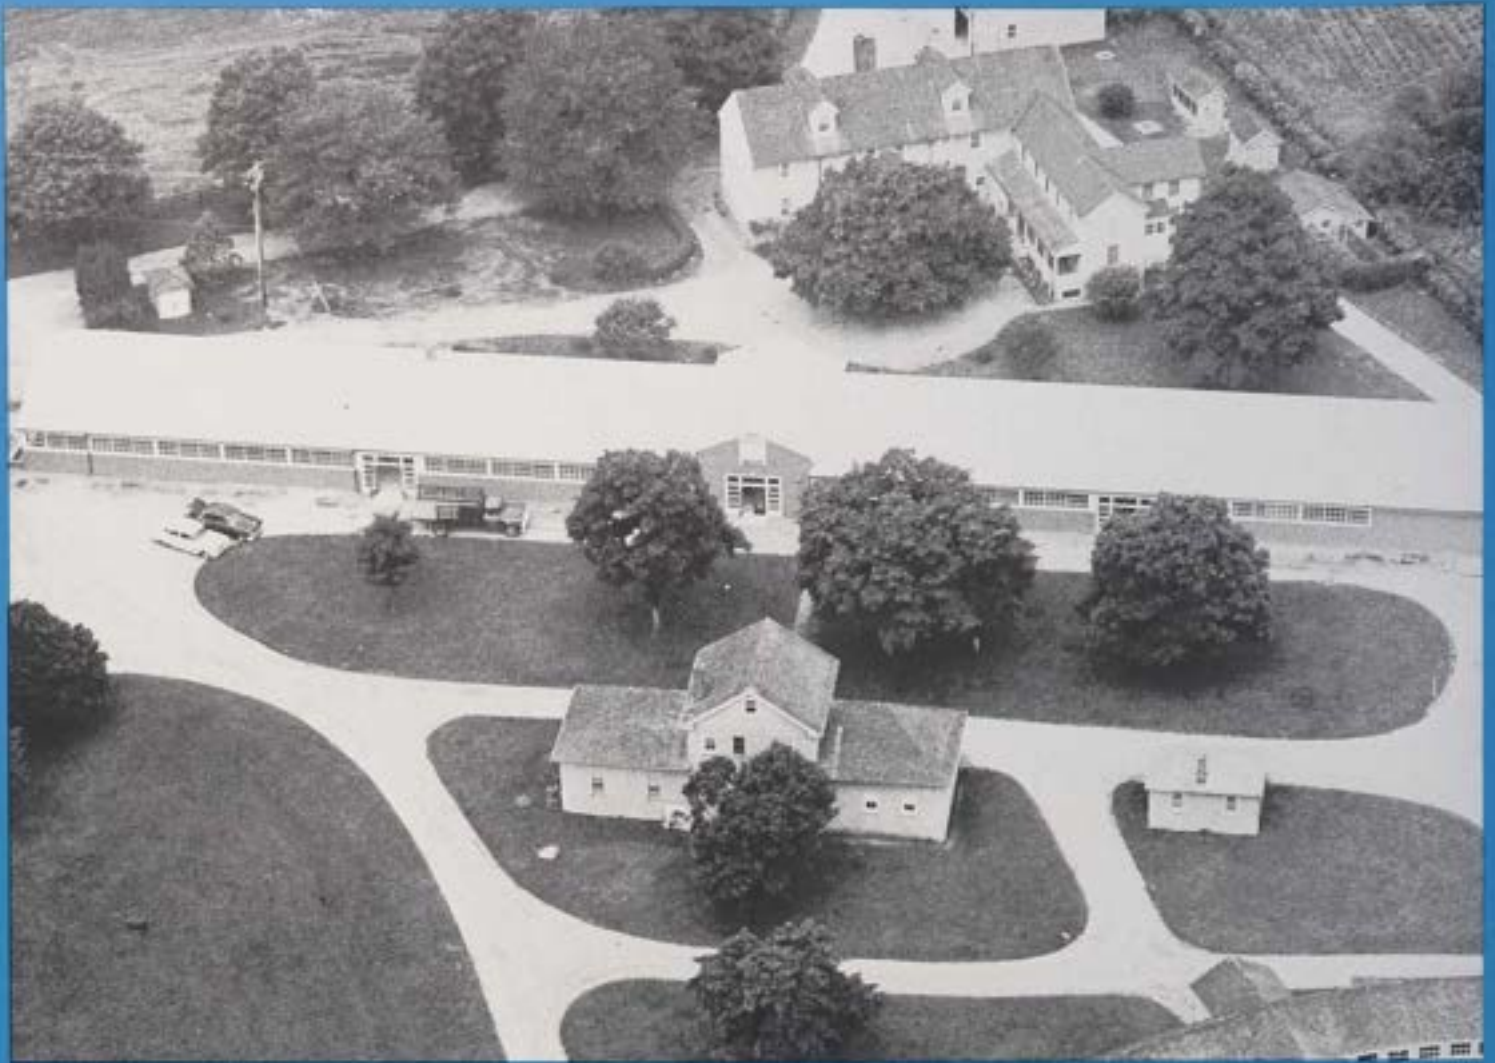

—Bill—
