DEDICATION:

The senior class of Christian Brothers Academy proudly dedicates the 1992 Pegasus to two long-serving and devoted members of the CBA community: Mrs. Ann Cokelet and Brother Charles O'Hanlon.

THEME:

In the words of Nietzsche, "what has not destroyed us, has made us stronger." No student is exempt from the challenges and blessings which are consigned to him. CBA has molded us into men who are confident and strong at heart and ready to move into the future.

18

ACTIVITIES:

CBA encourages and enhances our development as individuals by providing a broad variety of activities to spark our interest in areas outside the classroom. Here we express our individuality and build those friendships which sustain us in our journey.

UNDERCLASSMEN:

The senior class of CBA 1992 extends the best of luck to the underclassmen. We bequeath to them what has been given to us: guidance, respect, responsibility and motivation, so that they may be made stronger and thus be prepared to follow the path set out before them.

EVENTS

SENIORS:

We, the seniors, have grown stronger through the challenges and hurdles CBA has placed before us. As we look forward to the next step in the journey of life that lies ahead of us, we pause to reflect on those events and friends who have helped bring us this far.

SPORTS:

Distinguished in the field of interscholastic sports, CBA has proven to be a school that enhances the body as well as the mind. The values of sportsmanship and team work bolster CBA athletes to labor rigorously in order to achieve a level of success that very few can surpass.

FACULTY:

Success is dependent upon good preparation. The outstanding religious and lay members of the faculty at CBA have proven to be masters in their fields of teaching. We recognize and thank them for their caring and determination to facilitate our achievement and success.

164

DIRECTORY:

As we begin to take the next step in our lives, let us not forget the friends we have made, because it is to them that we each owe our gratitude for what we might become.

DEDICATION

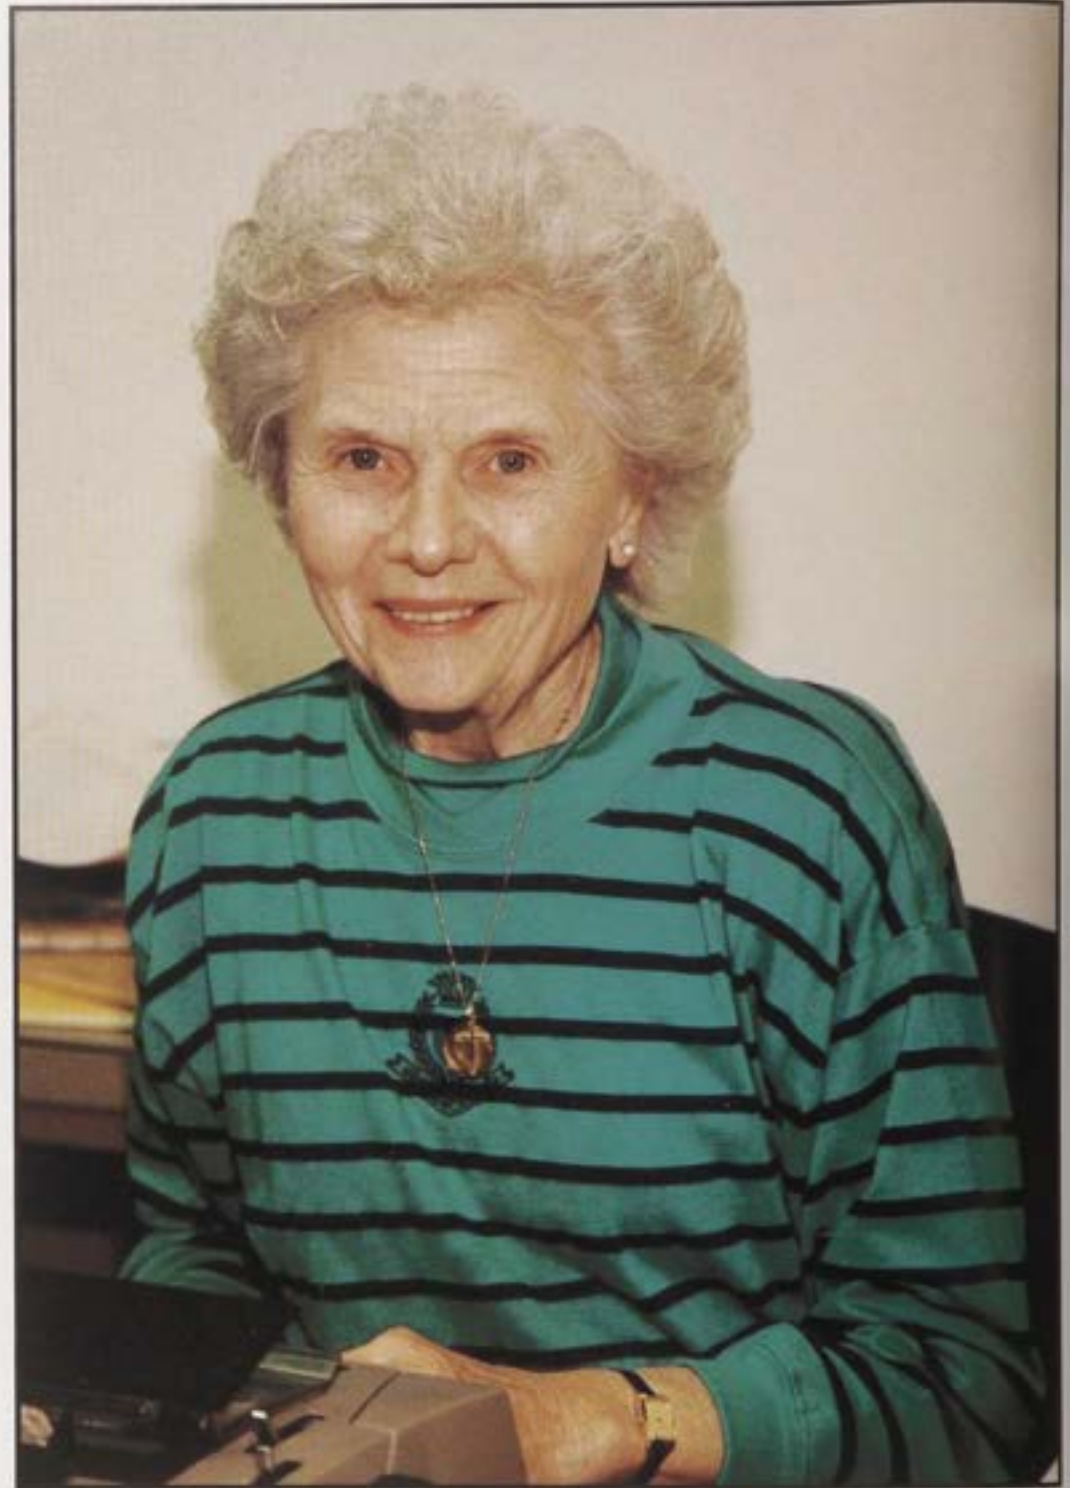

The Class of 1992 dedicates this edition of Pegasus to the long-serving and eminent staff of the Finance Office, Mrs. Ann Cokelet and Brother Charles O'Hanlon, F.S.C.

When the Finance Office moved from the main building to Fleming Hall last summer, their daily presence in the CBA community shifted behind the scenes. Nonetheless, their hard work continues to support the effective management of the Academy in collaboration with both the school administration and the development office. No other aspect of life at the Academy was more directly affected by the new governing organization at CBA than the Finance Office. Not only are they responsible for the day-to-day operation of the finances of the Academy, they have also taken on many additional duties in the service of the offices of President, Development, and Business Manager. They have made the transition easy for all concerned, and have continued in their respective roles with a sense of humor, dedication and enduring faith in their talents, their work and, ultimately, in the providence of God.

Mrs. Ann Cokelet, a Lasallian associate since 1970, is well-known for her hard work and many hours of service to the community. She begins each day with the early morning prayer group at St. Mary Church, Colts Neck, and is a regular communicant at our school liturgies. Afterwards she takes to her desk, spending her day balancing accounts, writing checks, collecting fees, handling insurance forms and dealing with sales representatives. It is not unusual to find Mrs. Cokelet in her office on weekends and holidays quietly accomplishing the many unseen tasks which serve to keep the Academy functioning.

She is a member of the Secretaries' Association of Monmouth County, where she is both past secretary and treasurer. She is also very active with the Cystic Fibrosis Association of Monmouth County.

Ann and her husband Charlie, a long time active member of the Father's Club, have two children, Mary Anne and Charles, along with four grandchildren.

Mrs. Ann Cokelet

Brother Charles O'Hanlon, F.S.C.

To the delight of her visitors, Mrs. Cokelet always has an assortment of candies on her desk. Her love and concern for the welfare of her family, associates, the students and those who suffer from Cystic Fibrosis reflect her deep faith in God. Though her vital service to the CBA community is often unheralded, we, the Class of 1992, wish to show our appreciation to Mrs. Cokelet for her inspiration and dedication.

Brother Charles O'Hanlon has been a De La Salle Brother of the Christian Schools since 1935. After a long-career as teacher and principal, Brother Charles came to CBA in 1973 to serve in the Finance Office.

Brother works closely with Mrs. Cokelet in organizing and executing the routine needs of the administration, faculty and staff. He makes the daily run to the bank, handles the mail and manages the stationery supplies for the school and development offices. While his role in the day-to-day operations of the Academy is vital, Brother's most significant contributions have been in his relationship with the parents' associations. He was instrumental in the growth and development of the Fathers' Club. Brother was also called upon to apply his talents to organizing and coordinating activities of the Century Club. This past year he was honored by the Century Club with the designation of the "Brother Charles O'Hanlon Circle" giving category. Although Brother's health has recently begun to fail, he still manages to conduct his daily routine with his usual amiable style. His quiet but friendly demeanor have endeared him to many. The program for celebrating his golden anniversary as a Christian Brother noted that, "Brother Charles has many talents and gifts. His greatest gift is his concern for others which enables him to listen, understand and help others." Thank you, Brother Charles, for utilizing your talents and gifts to advance the Christian Brothers Academy community.

“What Has Not Destroyed Us . . .

Christian Brothers Academy has always been a testing ground for young men. Since the day we walked onto campus as unknowing freshmen to our last day as knowledgeable seniors, CBA has tested our intellectual, physical, and spiritual capabilities. We have been pushed to reach our limits and then encouraged to go beyond them. Friedrich Nietzsche's philosophy finds its counterpoint at CBA. Our inner selves have not been destroyed, but have been made stronger.

We must prove our worthiness through the multitude of tests, papers, and exams. Like a well-honed blade, we need to endure the blaze so that our character can be forged. An accomplishment is something that must be earned; it cannot just be given out. We as seniors have managed to meet the challenges.

We have not become stronger solely through our own hard work, but have often relied upon the help of others. Our parents, our teachers, and our fellow students have all participated and aided us in our success. The majority of us would not have made the adjustment to CBA without the devoted attention of our parents. The enthusiastic faculty at CBA is responsible for directing our growth. The great wealth of our gratifying memories result from the good times we shared with one another. None of those people would have allowed us to be overwhelmed by the challenge of CBA. So, we all together share in our satisfaction of a task completed to the best of our ability.

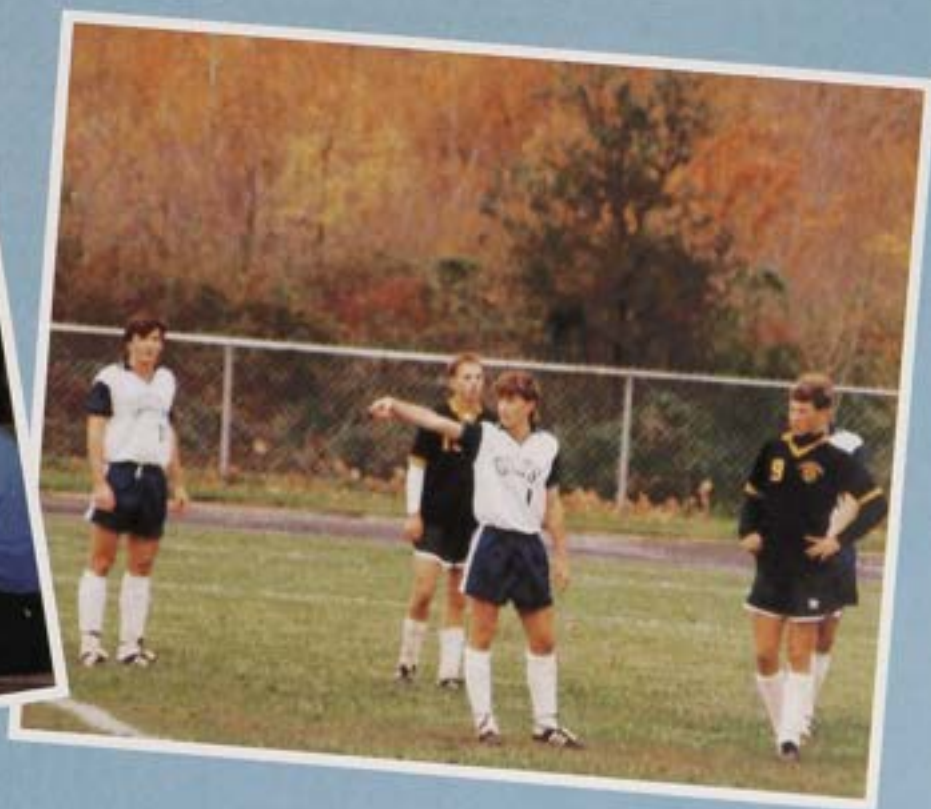

We hope that we have been made stronger by our experience at CBA, for we shall certainly need it as we continue on in our lives. The roads ahead of us, college and careers, will not leave much margin for error. We needed a firm foundation, needed to become stronger, so that we will be able to deal with later challenges. CBA has prepared us, through numerous trials, to confront the world. We are now ready to face our future without hesitation, without doubt, without fear.

"What does not destroy us, makes us stronger." We began at CBA untrained in the ways of wisdom, and as we leave now, we are more knowledgeable but not yet wise. CBA has not done it all for us. We are in a position to reach past the edge of the envelope and into the unknown, and it is up to us to make the effort. CBA can only strengthen us; it is our responsibility to take the vitality instilled in us and shape it into a better life. CBA has not destroyed us, it has made us stronger and for that we are grateful.

... Has Made us Stronger.”

ACTIVITIES

Student Council

The Student Council of Christian Brothers Academy began the year with high hopes and great expectations. On the whole, many of these expectations were fulfilled as the year progressed. This could not have been accomplished without the efforts of the administration, the enthusiastic participation of the student body and the complete dedication of all the Student Council officers. Without this potent combination, we could not have achieved success.

The weeks of intense planning and organization for the Freshmen Field Day produced positive results and set the tone for the remainder of the year. We achieved the goal of bringing the freshmen and upperclassmen closer together. The Student Council feels that this objective was accomplished with every dance and dress down day.

And, last but certainly not least, I'd like to thank Brian, Chris, Kimber, Alex, Tony and our advisor Mr. Higgins for everything they have done to make this year a success.

Academic Challenge

During the month of October, the first academic bowl team from CBA was sent to participate in the Ciba-Geigy Academic Challenge. The team, made up of Captain Bryan Eleazar, Craig Conte, Anthony DeBella, Justin Herbermann, Ken Logan and moderator Mr. Koch, fared extraordinarily well. The team finished second out of a field of over 35 teams representing most of Ocean and Monmouth counties. The bowl format was similar to the old college bowl shows and featured Jeopardy type categories and questions. With this early success, the team was driven to enter more contests and has set the standard for future teams at the Academy.

Christian Service

Christian Service/Learning is one of the most practical and enriching courses offered at C.B.A. The course provides a student with real-life experience by giving him not only the opportunity to perform community service but also the time to reflect on the meaning of his service. Students volunteer in hospitals, environmental centers, nursing homes and latch-key programs. Through their volunteer work and class discussions, led by Ms. Pat Tracey, students grow mentally, spiritually and emotionally while gaining insights into their work, God and themselves. For many of the students involved, this course initiates a life-long commitment to serving others.

The Peer Ministry Program ("GURU") demonstrates the fundamental LaSallian attitude of the CBA community, the care of the younger brothers within the community. The twenty-three seniors who are chosen to participate in this program get to know a small group of freshmen and serve as their primary introduction to the CBA experience.

Under the guidance of Mr. Garry Koch and Fr. Joseph Farrell, the seniors acquire the skills necessary to discern the needs of the freshmen and develop the strategies for addressing those needs. Realizing that each freshmen class is different, the seniors are challenged to enter into the freshmen experience in order to facilitate in them their personal, social, moral, religious and relational growth. Each encounter with the GURU group should be a mutual growth experience of honesty, confrontation, learning and growth. The freshmen profit from the experience of the seniors, who in turn benefit from the refreshing new insights which they offer to the encounter group.

It is this mutual challenge to personal growth which serves as the backbone to the Peer Ministry Program. This program serves as an integral element of the freshmen education at CBA and helps to make the CBA experience unique among local high schools.

The De La Salle Chapter of the National Honor Society strives for the ideals of Character, Scholarship, Service, and Leadership. This year the society entered its first academic team in the Ciba-Geigy Academic Bowl finishing second. The team hopes to continue competing in upcoming tournaments. The Society has also kept active within the CBA Community running the Open House, continuing the School Tutoring Program, and offering the SAT Prep class.

Freshmen Field Day is a day for the new freshmen to become comfortable with each other and C.B.A. First, the freshmen gather with their GURU's and celebrated Mass. Then, during the afternoon, it was off to the inter-GURU competitions. The 23 groups had the opportunity to compete in various activities such as the obstacle course and the bat race. The upperclassmen were there also to help initiate the new members of the C.B.A. community. It was an enjoyable day for all participants.

Religious Activities

Christian Brothers Academy works to foster the spirit of the community of Jesus. The day begins with the celebration of the Eucharist in the chapel, and in each class period we are reminded of the presence of God and seek the guidance of our patron, St. John Baptist de La Salle. There are, as well, many other activities and programs which celebrate the Christian nature of the Academy. The entire community gathers for liturgy to inaugurate the year, to celebrate Thanksgiving, Epiphany, the Feast of La Salle and the Solemnity of the Ascension. At these functions, the students and faculty exercise their baptismal commitments through sharing in the ministries of lector, musicians and as distributors of the Eucharist. Throughout the year the community is called upon to support the missions through collections and to support the local community through food drives. Our daily lives and routines are challenged by prayerful reflection and the call of the Gospel to be lives of loving service to one another and especially to the poor.

Christmas Club

Since the second week of November, Brother Patrick and his loyal followers have been hard at work. Every Tuesday and Thursday, they have been seen working feverishly to turn the front lawn of the Brothers' Residence into the glowing spectacle of lights we have come to expect. Even at a quick glance, the true evidence of hard work could be seen through the meticulous placement of everything from the large nativity scene to the hidden spotlights. Despite the harsh weather conditions this year, Brother Patrick and company persisted and made this year's Christmas display one to remember.

Chess Teams

Last year our A team won their division and finished third in the overall league in the playoffs. All of those students graduated at the end of the last school year, and so this year, we had to embark on a rebuilding program.

We still managed to corral 11 players for our two teams this year, but they are definitely of the younger variety. On the A team, we have one junior and four sophomores. In the order of the boards played, they are J.P. Orminati, Joe Pirchner, Dan Boccipio, Dennis Dourgourian (J), and Mike Portera. The B team in order of boards played are G. Bourne, Lee Samaha (F), Arturo Pacheco, Joseph Vasconcelos and Dan Sanicola.

Both our teams won in the opening rounds, and our A team again on its second try. As they gain more experience during the season, we are sure that these records will improve.

"B" TEAM: Bro. James, Geoff Bourne, Arturo Pacheco, Joe Vasconcelos, Dr. Sanderson

Rocketry Club

Move over Oppenheimer! Every Friday afternoon in the Fall and Spring unidentified flying objects can be seen hovering over the campus of C.B.A. The Rocketry Club, moderated by Bro. Pat Higgins, is made up of approximately 20 enthusiastic students. These students vent their frustrations and academic tensions through a display of aerial acrobatics. This club provides students with a different avenue to explore.

El Club de Espanol

En el segundo año, el club de Espanol ha subido a un actividad de gran tamaño. Las profesoras, la Senora Ver Hoven y la Senorita Egbert, han enseñado a los miembros mucho más de la cultura y lengua Espanol que pueden enseñar en las clases. Los miembros se representan todos los estudiantes que tomen Espanol. El club se junta después de las clases para mirar películas, aprender de la comida, jugar partidos de pregunta y conteste de Espanol, y conquistar el Club de Francais en partidos de valor.

Cette année, comme l'année dernière, le club a organisé une variété de programmes, comme jeopardy en français, la roue de fortune, un match de volleyball contre le Club Espagnol, Cyrano de Bergerac, un film français, une fête du Mardi Gras et un tour à New York pour voir Les Misérables.

On est content de voir le grand intérêt à la culture francophone.

Mock Trial

The Mock Trial team, coming off the heels of winning Monmouth County, will try to storm on even farther this year. Led by the "silent but strong" Mr. Mark E. Fleming, the team will try to repeat and hope to advance further than last year. The team has a barrage of talented seniors and upcoming underclassmen who will deliver fear into the eyes of timid competitors.

This year's case deals with "Chris Moss vs. Dr. Terry Preece." Chris Moss is suing the school system for not educating him for the cruel but real world. The attorneys will try to either prosecute or defend Chris Moss in this case of educational malpractice.

Wilderness Club

The Wilderness Awareness Club is a unique environmental education program which addresses the growing concerns of the environment and the miracles of nature. The club was founded by Mr. Jon Young and this year is moderated by Mr. Steve Smith. A council of experienced C.B.A. students lead the members on topics ranging from tracking to botany to ornithology. The training sessions are held on C.B.A. grounds which provide an excellent learning atmosphere for students who are interested in nature.

Now in its third year of competition, The Forensics/Oratorical Society has grown to be a force in the prestigious New Jersey Forensics League and has received awards and commendations from many.

The unexpected illness of Brother Leo Kirby, founder, coach, and inspirational leader of the OFS has not dampened the spirits of the skilled and enthusiastic men he has mentored. With the help of Brother's replacement, Mrs. Helen Fowler, and the remembrance of Brother's motto, "Live Life with Gusto!", the team remains a vital part of the Academy community. Plans for the society include a trip to the Invitational State Finals to be held in June.

The Academy Torch

The Academy Torch, CBA's student newspaper, plays an integral role in the school community. The paper focuses primarily on school events, while keeping up to date on current world affairs. Although school news and sports stories comprise most of the paper, students, faculty and other members of the CBA community are always invited to use the paper as an open forum in which they can voice opinions.

Under the direction of Mr. Hugh McKenna, the student staff is responsible for writing, editing and layout. The Academy Torch is published approximately six times a year. The 1991-1992 editorial staff of the Torch includes Chris Cifarelli (Editor-in-Chief), Brian Foote (Managing Editor), Chris Toolan (Features Editor), Vincent Gallo (Sports Editor) and Craig Conte (Layout Editor).

Arister

The Arister is CBA's annual, student-run literary journal. The title is derived from the Greek "Arete," meaning "excellence," which is the goal of each year's publication. Every year, the staff of the Arister orchestrates a massive publicity campaign, inundating our halls with creative, innovative and ingenious requests to, as the infamous saying goes, "Submit to Arister." Students present artwork, photography, poetry and prose for publication in the journal.

Through heated debates and spirited discussions, the dedicated staff carefully handpicks submissions and prepares them for publication. Through many hours of arduous labor, through the dedication of both the staff and of Mr. Fili, in conjunction with the high literary talent of the student body, we strive to attain literary excellence, and succeed with the production of the Arister.

Growing in number each year, the CBA Go Club continues to produce enthusiastic players. Under the tutelage of Mr. Steven Smith, whose nature of cool play and crushing victories baffle the minds of novice players, members receive a basic understanding of the principles of Go.

Complete mastery of the game is virtually impossible but an application of basic tactics and general strategic principles are within the reach of the average player. Here at CBA, Go represents an "anybody's" club where students can play in a relaxed atmosphere and relieve the tension of academic demands.

Math Team: Varsity

The CBA Math Team, despite the loss of several key seniors, has continued its tradition of success. The team this year, led by co-captains Drew Grabowski and Bryan Eleazar and with the aid of seniors Chris Harbison, Anthony DeBella, and Chip Mueller, is among the leaders in the Shore League. The team is also in strong contention in the the State and Catholic Leagues. Juniors Marc Kowalski, Ryan Fulcher, and Michael Menditto have brought the JV squad to the top of the Catholic League. Sophomore Jean-Paul Orminati and freshman Tim McGovern are gaining valuable experience and will provide a sound nucleus for upcoming years. The Math Team has already participated in the William Paterson College and Seton Hall University contests. It is preparing for the tough New York All-Star Meet in March. The team hopes to finish strong and complete another successful year for Brother Christian.

Retreats

As students at CBA, we are given a unique opportunity to get in touch with ourselves and God. This chance is known as the CBA retreat.

In the Sophomore retreat, students are given the opportunity to get closer to nature and God through meditation and reflection. The retreat was run by elected upperclassmen, most of whom had helped out on previous retreats.

The Junior retreat consists of a one day retreat to a local parish. Priests from a parish in Jamaica, New York, organize the retreat. Small group activities and confessions are just some of the retreat's many offerings.

The Senior retreat enables students to examine their own spirituality and listen to the ideas of others. Seniors have the opportunity to hear the stories of recovering drug addicts and alcoholics.

This year the 1992 Pegasus has been brought forth by a group of talented and dedicated workers. For the past ten months, the CBA yearbook staff, under the supervision of Mr. Walter Hrycenko, has met almost daily to reach their final goal. That goal was to provide the CBA community with a book that would reflect the hard work, dedication, and discipline that is seen in students and teachers alike.

Over the past summer, seven yearbook editors along with Mr. Hrycenko attended the Delmar Yearbook Workshop in Easthampton, Massachusetts. During their three day stay, the editors were taught basic and advanced principles dealing with yearbook construction. They were then able to teach others and apply what they learned in order to make the 1992 Pegasus the book it is. This book was made possible by the teamwork demonstrated among all involved in its production.

Fathers' Club

STANDING: Harry Swain, Jack Kelly, George Werner, Frank Lofton, Bill Denver, Ray Brennan, Joe Castle, Jack Skochil, Peter Wilkins, Mario Valeriani, Rich Murphy, Rich Cardillo

The Fathers' Club of CBA was founded for two purposes: to create a spirit of comradeship among the alumni, fathers and friends of CBA and to be an assistance to the Academy. The club holds regular meetings to increase interest in the Academy and its academic standing in the community. This organization sponsors the annual Cadillac raffle and supports the Century Club drive. A Father and Son Communion Breakfast brings the members and their sons into close union with the religious dimension of CBA. Each year the Fathers' Club organizes a variety of functions ranging from social activities through a maintenance committee. In addition, the men of the Fathers' Club help out with supervision at many athletic events and others functions.

Mothers' Club

SEATED: Francine Girimonte, Patricia Torbert, Brother Andrew, Anne Ryan, Maria Young, Angela Lombardino.
STANDING: Carol Kanarkowski, Judy Pasquale, Bertha Denzer, Donna Kennedy, Kathy Ziola, Earline Cutolo, Sonny Zeller, Kathy Logan, Dottie Kelly, Martha Maselko, Barbara Kurowski, June Day, Fran Merlino, Adele Knapp

The Mothers' Club is an organization for all the mothers of CBA. The club was formed in 1975 to assist in the present and future success of the Academy. This is accomplished by aiding in school activities and services as requested by the school, helping financially in whatever the way the school administration considers desirable to supplement school funds, uniting the members in the closest bonds of good fellowship and promoting community interest in CBA. The financial goals are achieved by sponsoring an annual luncheon and fashion show in October and an art show in February. Services rendered by club volunteers consist of staffing the nurse's office, publishing a newsletter, providing chaperones for school dances, and hosting and assisting at several in-school social and academic receptions.

What is it that sets CBA students apart? Why do alumni speak of their alma mater with unrivaled pride? The answers to these questions are evident if we think about the many ways we have been changed by our four years at Christian Brothers Academy.

What we discovered our first year at CBA was a forge, a place where the rubble was burned away and potentials revealed. Freshmen year was the first and harshest firing. We had to learn quickly to adapt to a new environment. Most of us made it, but only to drop the ways of children and to shoulder adult responsibilities.

SOPHOMORE

During our sophomore year we were tempered by a lower, more steady flame, and began to show what we were made of. Bronze, burnished to reflect the light of science and technology, revealed the knowledge we gained about the marvels of nature and the wonders of our own minds. The pure polished silver of our spiritual selves was proof, we discovered, of the goodness we realized existed in ourselves, in others, and in the world around us. The steel nerve to speak out, to voice an unpopular opinion or debate an important issue, was cast in open classroom discussions. We found our voices and expanded their range by learning the arts of acting, poetry, journalism, and music. The iron that is the will to succeed was clearly displayed in the determination of the athlete. Trophies and banners were added to the store of past awards to remind us of CBA's winning tradition.

JUNIOR

As juniors, our transformation became even more pronounced. Skilled artisans, our teachers, taught us all to expand our horizons, to grow in different directions: the athlete analyzed literature, the painter studied trigonometry, and the mathematician argued points of theology. Throughout the year, our teachers worked a strange and wonderful alchemy — blending our mettle to create gold.

Now that we are seniors and prepare to leave for college and choose our careers, we can look back on the educational process that changed us and more fully appreciate it. We should not be surprised when we discover that the fuel heating the forge, the fuel powering our ambitions and driving our lives, was our own desire to develop our God-given gifts and to one day use them to transform the world.

The Colts' season started off in fine fashion for Coach Keane's booters. The Colts won their first nine games to go #1 in the Shore and #4 in the state in the press polls. The reason for their success: strong defense and consistent offense. The defense led by goalkeeper Marc Bala, defenders Charles Sorrentino, Jim Byrne, and Mark Peters was practically airtight. The offense, with senior captains Steve McKee and Craig Gottilla, was potent. Senior Tom Jasina and sophomores Mike Palumbo and Craig Lennon all scored important goals for the Colts. Despite a lapse late in the season, the Colts managed to claim a share of the A North title, proving their motto, "Go Hard or Go Home", to be an accurate one. The Colts finished the year ranked #8 in the state among private and parochial schools.

The Colt harriers started their season while most other teams were still lying out on the beach in the sun. The CBA X-C team usually starts every year in late June. The season is over in late November. This season, the Colts' were "perfect," going ten for ten in invitational and state competition. Along the course, the deep sophomores took care of dual meet competition, as well as bringing up the rear on the Varsity squad. The veteran seniors and the token junior handled the "big ones." Those "big ones," referred to collectively as the triple crown, are composed of the state Parochial "A" meet, the Eastern States championship, and the All-Groups State Championship. The CBA harriers won them all, however, the Eastern States was a nail-biter with the Colts winning by only one point.

Later in the season, at the Parochial "A" meet, the Colts embarrassed the field, winning by a wide margin. The next week, the Colts came back with four of the seniors from last year's state championship team and Brendan Ring to defeat the nearest team by more than thirty points. This "back-to-back" state championship "stunt" was only achieved by a few teams in state X-C history.

Intramurals

CBA has developed an extensive intramural program. On any given day, one is able to find some sort of intramural sport going on. During the fall, the popular sports are basketball and soccer. By the time spring has arrived, many students are ready to put on their cleats and play softball or put on their shorts and sunglasses and play volleyball. Paddleball is played during both seasons. All in all, the intramural program offers something for just about every student and insures that everyone is able to compete in a sport with his peers.

The 1991-1992 Colts are characterized as a young, but exciting basketball team. With only two seniors, Notre Dame bound Keith Kurowski and three year Varsity player Chris Grogan, in the starting lineup, the Colts present a young attack. Dave Keady, Bryan Menar, and Ed Buecker round out the starting lineup. The three other seniors and major contributors to the Colt's success are Marc Reed, Kevin Kenny, and Anson Sager.

Some of the '91-'92 Colts accomplishments include a number one ranking in the Shore, a top ten ranking in the state, and a second place finish in the Northeast Catholic Classic in Trumbull, Connecticut. The Colts plan to win the Shore Conference and Parochial State Tournaments to conclude their season.

The CBA Bowling Team has secured a spot as one of the top squads in the Shore Conference. Led by the senior trio of Joe Santanello, Chris Muniz and Ken Frederick, the Colts began the season with an impressive second place finish in the preseason Summit Invitational. The continued success of the team and drive to the playoffs has been sparked by the performances of Mike Muniz, Dave Lelesi and newcomer Jon Matinas. Despite the loss of three starters next season, look for the Colts to strive to the top of the Shore Conference next season.

Ice Hockey

Expectations were high for the defending Gordon Cup Champion Colts. Although the Colts lost many key players, they were still ranked high in the state. Senior captain Andrew Jaffe and junior assistant captains Bill McCormack and Keith Heslin will have to provide leadership to the young Colt team. The key players on this year's team are seniors Tim Shaheen and Jeff Stripto and juniors Sean Naughton, Bryan Henry, Justin D'Affronte, and Dan Clune. Freshmen Adam Olsen and Jeff Brow will have to play big roles if the Colts plan to defend their Gordon Cup Championship. Goaltenders Jeff Longo and Todd Thiele will have to play well if the Colts hope to win.

Swimming

Coming into the season, high aspirations awaited the '91-'92 Colts Swim team. After an incredible debut last year, the Colts were back to defending their Shore Conference Crown. Led by Coach Sullivan, the team is out to better the accomplishments of last year's squad. Meet after meet, the Colts were almost perfect, losing only once in a battle vs. St. Joe's of Metuchen. The Colts bounced back to win the Monmouth County Championships led by Tom Wilkens, Rob Kelly, and Raul Damas. Then came the SCT. Amidst a tough field, the Colts rose to the occasion led by possibly the best swimmer in state history, Shawn Torbert. Shawn, the team's captain and anchorman, exceeded his expectations by leading the Colts to a second straight SC Championship. The Colts have one goal to accomplish in this '91-'92 season and that is the State Crown. In obtaining the State Crown, the Colts will complete the "dream season" and add a new chapter to the legacy of CBA sports.

The team was led by an elite group of senior distance runners including Rich Corcoran, Brendan Ring, Marc McDonald, Dan Campbell, Matt Stubbs and Dave Ernst. The sprint team of Andre Hewitt, Andrew Malinowski, Ken Oliver, Mike Johnson and Ed Hackett with juniors Dennis Coughlin and Matt Vernak also had a strong season. The team was rounded out by an excellent field team made up of Matt DeSantis, Mike Kawas, Sean Laffin and sophomore high jumper John Trojanowski.

Wrestling

The 1991-1992 Colts wrestling team was fueled with confidence from new head coach Alger. Coach Alger brought his winning ways and attitude to the team from Virginia. He has molded this year's team into winners.

With the leadership from co-captains Bac Le and Mike Cudzil, the team pulled together to become a formidable opponent. The Colts challenged all of their opponents, pushing them to the test.

The future of C.B.A wrestling looks promising. Underclassmem stars Mike Cudzil, Craig Czubati, and Matt Smuro will lead the charge toward the top of A-North.

The dedication of the wrestlers and coaches will lead to the team's success. The addition of Coach Alger will lead C.B.A wrestling to the top of the sport.

Tennis

This year the defending Newark Academy Tournament champions and State Tournament finalists will take the courts in an effort to repeat and possibly even improve upon last year's results. Although the Colts have lost four of their starting seven, there are many talented underclassmen who will be able to fill these big shoes. The Colts will be led by seniors John Costanzo and Chris Girimonte and freshmen Dave Kenas. As usual, Coach Dan Keane has a very deep lineup to work with, and he will use the depth to its fullest potential in order to form two solid doubles teams. The foundation of the doubles teams will be built around returning second doubles player Dan Cuccia. Battling for the other three positions will be seniors Zsolt Zentai, Matt Anderson and Ryan Kelly, and juniors Joe Robertson, Kelly Burke, Rob Bellezza, Andrew Raffellini, Kevin Skochil, and Peter Izzo.

After coming off an 18-8 record last season, the Colts expect big things in 1992. The Colts return six starters to the field, including southpaw Ed DeFrancesco and Aaron Pasko on the mound. An experienced outfield of seniors Marc Reed and Andy Wojcik, along with newcomer Brian Manning, should help the team. The powerful Colt offense, featuring Dave Lardieri and Mark Peters, will also contribute to a successful season.

Again, the 1992 Colts appear to be one of the best teams in the state. They enter the season hoping to extend their 105 dual meet win streak and looking forward to a possible Parochial "A" state title. The veteran distance squad of Brendan Ring, Marc McDonald, Dan Campbell, Dave Ernst, Rich Corcoran, Matt Stubbs, Mike Cisar and Chris Grosso will lead the Colt stampede. The sprinters, Andy Malinowski, Andre Hewitt, Ken Oliver, Ed Hackett, and Mike Johnson will also be strong. The key factor for success this year lies with the field team. They are led by senior high jumper Craig Gottilla and senior shot putter Matt DeSantis. Rounding out the field team are Sean Laffin, Steve Chriss, Mike Kawas, and junior Jim Gildersleeve.

Golf

The Colt's golf team, which has been building for the last few years, will look to be a major contender in the Shore Conference in 1992. The Colts will bring back some very good and experienced players in Jay Ingram, Matt Taylor, Adam Edwards and Bill Healy. Coach Brother Andrew is looking forward to having a very competitive season.

FACULTY

Jesus says that those who lead others must know each one of them individually in order to understand them and take the right means to guide them. Some need mildness, others firmness. Some call for much patience, others need to be spurred on. Some need to be reproved and punished, others must be constantly watched over to keep them from going astray.

Jesus also says that the sheep must know their shepherd in order to follow him. Two qualities are needed in order to lead others. First, a high level of virtue, to be models for others, who would go astray if their guides did not walk the right path. Second, a great tenderness for those entrusted to them; this leads them to love their leader and find joy in his company.

Brother Patrick Higgins exemplifies the characteristics of the LaSallian school in a multitude of ways. His dedication to the students he teaches in the advanced freshmen biology classes is evidenced by their great affection for him. This is due to the enthusiasm and zeal with which he approaches his subject matter. Biology for Bro. Patrick is not just a course, it is in reality a way of life. His hobbies involve keeping animals and plants. Anyone who comes to CBA is immediately struck by the signs of Brother's presence. He assumes the responsibility of landscaping and planting the many floral gardens around the school. A walk down the hallway will reveal not only many plants but also assorted aviary and fish tanks. One can hardly imagine a CBA campus without the skilled cultivation and stewardship of Bro. Pat.

However, his students are his real pleasure. He gently leads them through their studies, and fosters growth as persons and men of faith. He encourages their interests in biology, and always has a variety of students involved in beautifying the grounds in one way or another.

Bro. Pat also moderates a number of different clubs. He conducts the "Christmas Club" where students work on set design, set-up and the striking of an elaborate Christmas scene displayed on campus. He also advises the Rocketry Club and the Camera Club.

It is not only the students who benefit from his dedication. He is a constant and positive force within the faculty room and is quick to offer praise and assistance to the other members of the faculty. Because of the strength of his involvement with the students, he has had a profound impact upon the broader CBA community. He is present at most CBA functions, and is always a positive and pleasant contributor to all CBA activities. He supports the school on a day to day basis, and does so with a generous spirit and loving heart. In the midst of all this activity, he still tends daily to his aged mother living down the road from the Academy.

Commit yourself to Jesus Christ and his teaching, since he has honored you and chosen you in preference to many others in order to proclaim his teaching to young people whom he loves dearly.

The Way It Was . . .

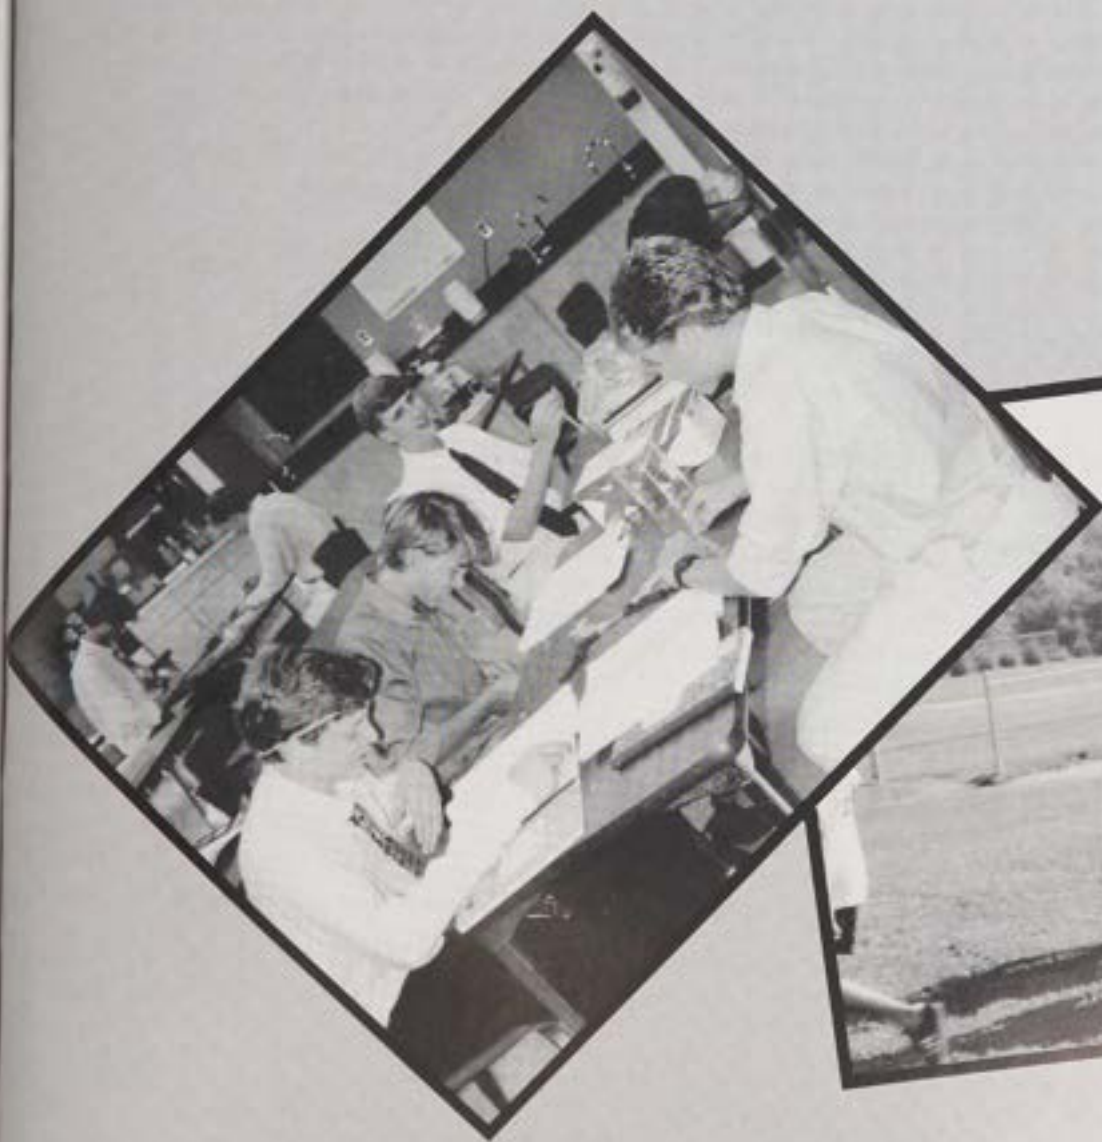

We, the students of Christian Brothers Academy, have been faced with many challenges in the past year. The rigors of the Academy have tested all of our intellectual, physical, and spiritual abilities. As we survived each test, we have become stronger than before. CBA has taught us how to deal with adversity and prepare for success. However, we could not have outlasted the trials of CBA without the aid of our friends, teachers, and parents. It was they who made sure that we would not be overwhelmed by the difficulty of CBA.

Now, we must move on to new responsibilities and new experiences. We believe our foundation at CBA has made us strong enough to survive and hopefully even succeed in our later challenges in life. We will make use of our God-given talents to meet each and every test with the same courage and determination as those at CBA. To not do so would be to betray all of our training and preparation. The world requires strong leaders to deal with the problems facing it. We, who passed the test of CBA, have been made stronger by it and this strength allows us to shape our own destiny.

The 1992 Pegasus Yearbook has been compiled through the effort and the determination of competent workers. If it were not for the dedication and teamwork of these men this yearbook would not exist. I would like to take this opportunity to thank each of those workers, both editors and contributors, who made Pegasus 1992 possible.

To Mr. Walter Hrycenko, our advisor, whose patience and determination keeps the spirit of CBA alive. You were always there to help and guide us. For this, I salute you.

To Mr. Dave Schofield, our representative from the Delmar Publishing Company, who is truly a man amongst men in the yearbook profession, all hell would have broken loose if you weren't there for us.

To Mr. Paul Tighe from Normandy Studios, whose photos so keenly reflected the spirits of CBA students and faculty, your contributions were paramount to the production of our yearbook.

Marc Bala (Assistant Editor-in-Chief) has been there to help wherever help was needed. He managed to pick up the slack when he saw that times were tough and was always willing to lend a hand.

Drew Grabowski and Chris Cifarelli (Senior Editors) managed to work with each other and help one another. Drew has spent long tedious hours in the yearbook office showing unique pride in his work. Chris, while working on the Academy Torch and in the theatre, managed to work around his stressful schedule in order to make Pegasus '92 something we could all be proud of. They were undoubtedly second-to-none in their compatibility and effectiveness.

Ryan Kelly (Sports Editor), Kevin Sawyer (Sports Co-Editor) and Raja Kyriakos have brilliantly reflected the work ethics of CBA athletes. Their contributions display a true and distinct reflection of the hard work and arduous tasks encountered by the CBA athlete.

Tom Adams (Faculty Editor), despite being solely responsible for his section, sought and found assistance from Mr. Hrycenko and other staff members. Tom's devotion to the yearbook is unmistakably true and his contribution invaluable. I would also like to thank Ken Frederick and Steve Young for their artistic contributions, which added character to the Faculty section.

Matt Poleski (Activities Editor) has made his mark in Pegasus '92 by providing us with vivid descriptions of the clubs and organizations open to students at the Academy. His devotion towards Pegasus proves him to be a worthy benchmark for future success.

The success of the Underclassmen section is due to the Steven Stetz, who was assisted by Bill Flood. Stetz, whose character and humor kept us alive, proved to be a master of organization and creativity. His professionalism provided a solid back-bone to this year's staff.

Vivek Sailam (Photography Editor), whose class and good taste can be seen in his photos, provided the staff with the building blocks that would support the entire yearbook.

Special thanks must also be given to those workers who voluntarily chose to help out wherever help was needed. These men are Mr. Garry Koch, Paul Buczynski, Craig Conte, Richard Yuen, Eric Ebeling, Eric Kolasa, and Kyle Taylor. Without their help and consideration, production of this yearbook would have never gotten off the ground.

By undertaking the responsibilities of Editor, Pegasus '92, I hoped that this yearbook would aid my friends, classmates, and myself in appreciating the hard work we have put forth and the sacrifices we have made. We have risen above the challenges that have been bestowed upon us and we will forever be a part of CBA. Even though this yearbook paints a good picture of our fond memories of the Academy, let us never dwell in the past. We must look towards the future and do what it takes to succeed. To my friends and classmates I wish you the best of luck in your future endeavors and that we will soon meet again. God bless our country. God bless Christian Brothers Academy.

John M. Costello
