Odyssey: A Journey of Life

The editors of Pegasus 2001 have chosen a theme which they feel best represents our lives at Christian Brothers Academy . . . Odyssey. The word itself comes directly from the epic poem by Homer, and refers to an extended, adventurous wandering. In Homer's poem, the Greek hero Odysseus finds himself lost upon his return from Troy, and faced with many dangers, he manages to return to his beloved wife and family in his home town of Ithaca.

The modern tale of Arthur C. Clarke's 2001: A Space Odyssey expands our horizon and stretches the limits of our imaginations as it continues to remind us of the relevance of the Odyssey theme. Like the travails of Odysseus this journey is fraught with peril and sounds a note of caution in the modern world. As the future beckons us onward, the space odyssey warns us of the potential loss of our humanity. Let us never forget the important lesson we learned at CBA: human advancement and personal achievement must always be built on a foundation of Christian love.

Our lives are a never-ending Odyssey, a continuous journey of trials and triumphs, of good and bad times, and unforgettable friendships. Like Odysseus, we are on an extended adventure, a life filled with challenge and sacrifice, reward and disappointment. At Christian Brothers Academy we have been challenged, we have made sacrifices, we have received the irreplaceable reward of friendship, we have experienced the pain of loss. During the four years we have spent here, we have learned to value not only the knowledge we have gained, but also the people we have met.

As freshmen we wondered whether the hard work and sacrifices associated with attending CBA were worth the trouble. Now that we are seniors, we look upon CBA as our second home. CBA has given us something we will never forget, a time in our lives when we will look back and know we made the right choice. We realize how much we have enjoyed our time at the Academy -- in the classroom, on the fields and on the stage. Like Odysseus, our journey has brought us home after years of challenge, sacrifice and adventure. CBA has afforded each one of us something we will never forget: an opportunity to live our lives to the fullest.

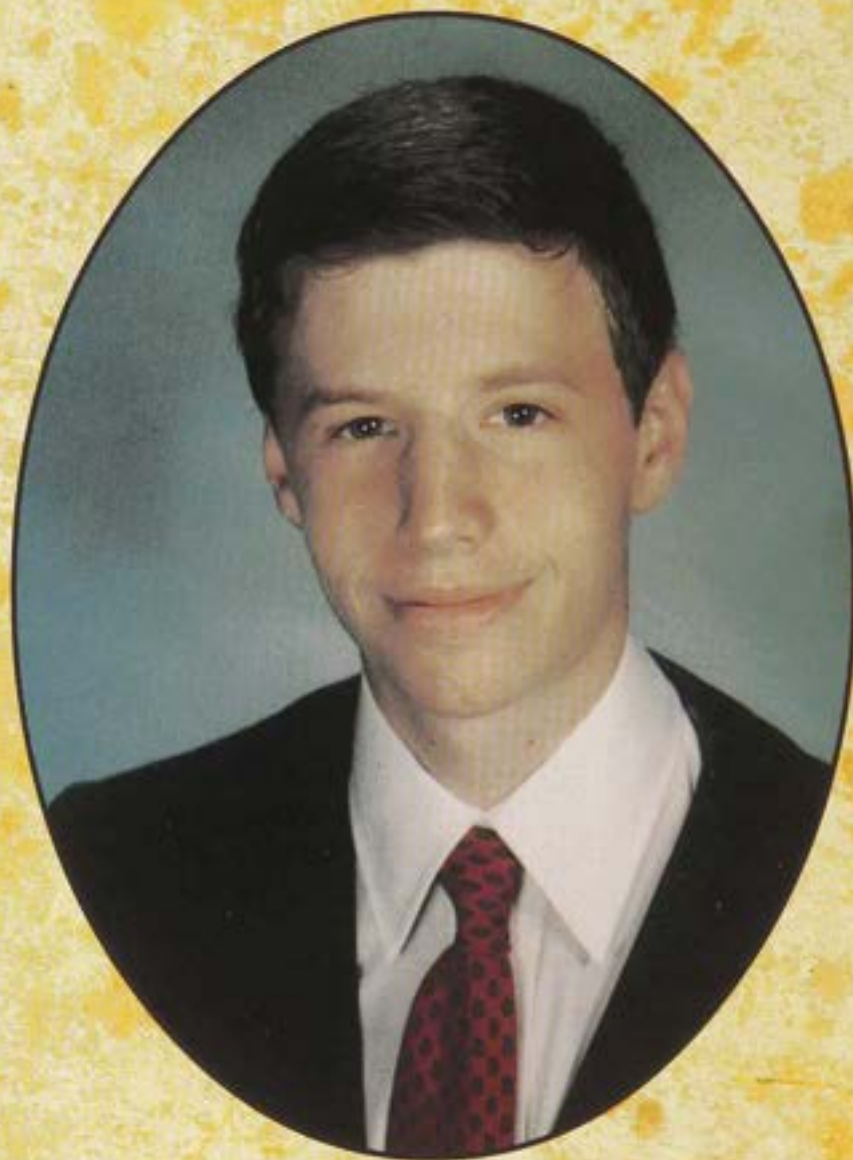

An Odyssey is a wandering. None of us know for sure our definite path in life. The future is a mystery. Whatever our futures bring, we remember that in each of our individual journeys, God is and always will be our guide. The prayers said here are what keeps CBA alive. Though we will go our separate ways, our lives will be rooted in the belief that God is the center of all life. May God be the light of the journey, and may all of our journeys be enriched by life and love.

Let the Odyssey Continue...

DEDICATION

THE EDITORS AND STAFF OF PEGASUS 2001 DEDICATE THIS EDITION OF THE YEARBOOK TO MAXWELL JORDAN AND HIS FAMILY.

SEPTEMBER 1, 1983 -- JULY 21, 2000

“There is nothing more poetic in the freshness of its passions than a 16-year-old heart. The morning of life is like the dawn of a day, full of purity, visions, and harmony.”

-Rene Chateaubriand

But the just man, though he die early,
shall be at rest.
For the age that is honorable comes not
with the passing of time,
nor can it be measured in terms of years.
Rather, understanding is the hoary
crown for men, and an unsullied life, the attainment of old age.
He who pleased God was loved;
he who lived among sinners was transported-Snatched away, lest wickedness pervert his mind
or deceit beguile his soul;
For the witchery of paltry things
obscures what is right and the whirl of desire transforms the innocent mind.
Having become perfect in a short while,
he reached the fullness of a long career;
for his soul was pleasing to the Lord.

-Wisdom 4:7-14

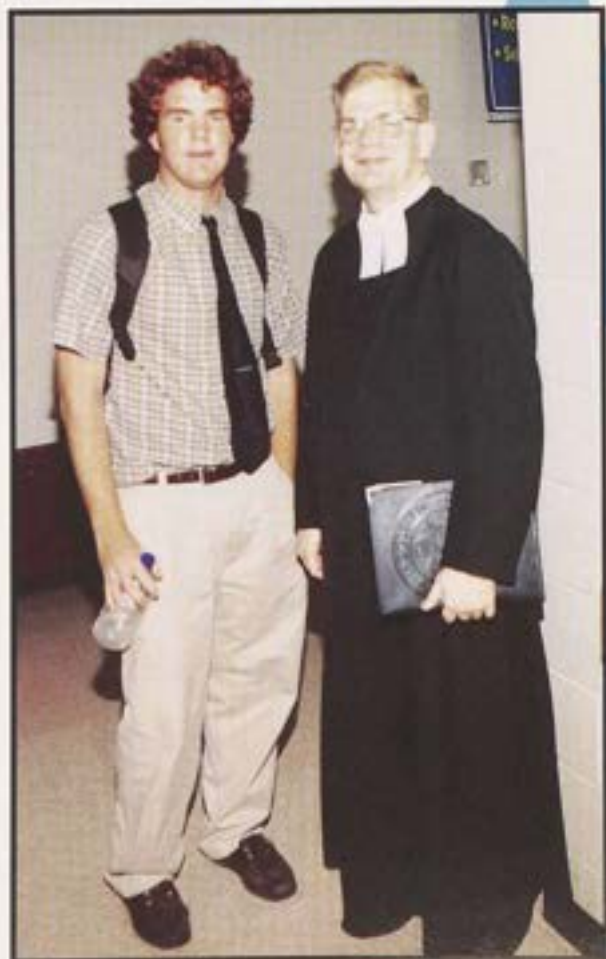

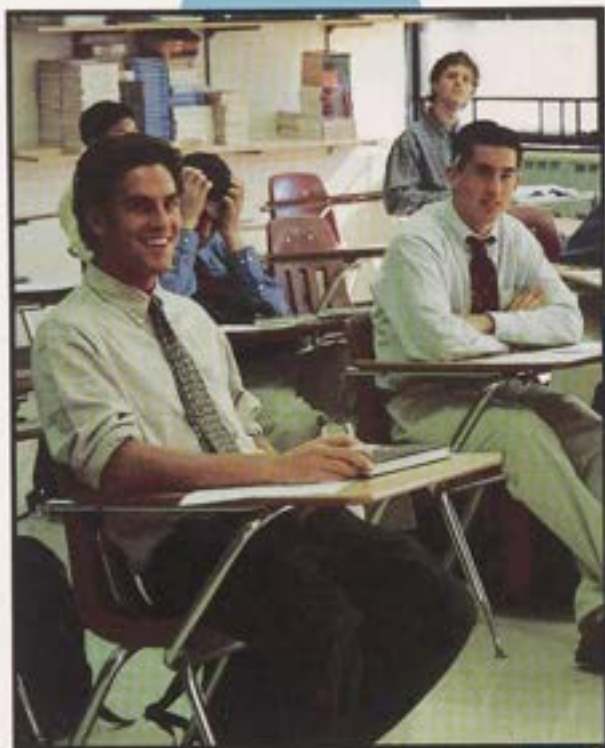

On Friday, July 21, 2000, a helicopter crashed in Maui, Hawaii. There were seven passengers onboard. Two days later, the grim news was released that four of the seven passengers were the Jordan family of Shrewsbury. In the days following the tragedy, CBA's administration organized a memorial service at the school; more than two hundred people gathered to mourn the passing of a remarkable family.

Max Jordan, Class of 2001, was a cheerful presence in the halls of CBA, a warm and caring person whose humor and sound advice brightened many of our days. In addition to being an exemplary student, he was an avid computer programmer as well as an active member of the Computer Club. He was an accomplished musician, and an integral member of the Science Fiction Club, the yearbook, and Aristar. Max's many talents and accomplishments pale, however, when compared to his character. He was kind, decent, compassionate, and wise.

JOURNEY...

*La Sallian Educator of the Year
2000-2001*

Bro. Ralph Montedoro,

The following is excerpted from Mr. Santanello's letter of nomination to the LaSallian Committee.

It is with surety, affection and a sense of justice that I formally nominate Bro. Ralph Montedoro, Principal, as the distinguished LaSallian Educator for 2000-2001. I have known Brother Ralph since 1984. As teacher, Campus Minister, Assistant Principal and Principal, Brother Ralph has served the CBA Community for 20 years. One could write a book about all the wonderful things he has done. However, I choose to focus on two characteristics that make Brother Ralph unique: the centrality of the students in his heart and mind and his deep commitment to collegiality.

Brother Ralph always places the students first. His priority is always to share his deep faith, time and many talents with the students and to lead them to the Lord in any way that he can. By urging them to realistically know their "gifts and talents" he is always encouraging them to be the best that they can without sacrificing their self-image or dignity. His approach to administration is to place what is good for the students as the focal point for all discussion and decisions.

Brother works together with his associates to foster a collegial style of administration. In fact, he corrects any associate member of his administration who uses the word "I." It is always we -- the administration or we the CBA community.

He challenges all of us to become actively involved, i.e. to "put our money where our mouths are." Under Brother's direction, the school has never run so smoothly. Through Brother's tireless efforts, we have a pleasant place to work, a cooperative student body and an academic community that is second to none.

Through his example we are encouraged to support the students and each other by giving of our time and talent beyond what we do in the classroom. Brother Ralph is a true Minister of Grace, committed in Association with his colleagues for the effective Management of this school.

Respectfully submitted,

Peter R. Santanello
Associate Principal

H i s t o r y

The History Department at CBA offers courses designed to present students with a thorough understanding of the nature of historical change and development within a framework of critical analysis and intellectual discipline. This is accomplished through a wide variety of courses. Freshmen take World History, in which the necessary skills for historical research are practiced. United States History I introduces sophomores to the complexities of the process of historical inquiry. Juniors take United States History II, which examines American history up to the present day through use of interpretive essays and readings. Advanced Placement American History and European History are offered for students who show strong proficiency in the discipline. These classes impart a comprehensive factual knowledge of the subject. Students in these classes develop an ability to analyze, synthesize, and interpret historical evidence.

The History Department offers other courses besides history. Psychology gives a solid introduction to the topics of psychology for the college-bound student. AP Psychology is a much deeper study of the nuances of the mind that prepares students for the AP and, should the students choose to take them, the CLEP examinations. Several courses are offered for those students interested in business: Introduction to Business, Economics, and AP Economics are courses that explore business and economic principles. American Government is offered for students interested in exploring the major themes of government and answering the questions: "Who governs?" and "To what ends?" Students are thereby able to develop an informed knowledge of American policy.

Some of the goals of the Religious Studies Department are to inform the intellect and touch the heart with the values and message of Jesus Christ and the Catholic Christian tradition, to prepare students for future academic inquiry into their faith, and to respect the various faith traditions and levels of faith response of each student. Freshman religion presents an overview of Catholicism, highlighting Scripture, world religions, and the seven sacraments of the Catholic Church. Additionally, each freshman participates in the GURU (Giving Us Religious Understanding) Program. The freshmen meet in groups of four to six people, with specially selected seniors once a cycle during their religion classes, to discuss everything from moral choices to the service project. Sophomores study spirituality and morality in their religion classes. They also read The Tracker, a book about Tom Brown's experiences of living in the Pine Barrens. In junior religion classes students analyze Scripture in greater detail, treating its literary and stylistic aspects. There are four choices for senior religion: Dimensions of Catholic Life, Theological Inquiry, GURU, and Christian Service. Dimension of Catholic Life summarizes the previous three years' teaching and prepares students for entering the world as informed Catholics. In Theological Inquiry students learn about Christian theology and theological ethics. The Christian Service class emphasizes volunteer activities in the community.

Besides classroom learning, religious topics are covered on the retreats that the school sponsors. Freshmen have a special Welcome Day when they meet their GURUs and get to know the other members of their group. Juniors and seniors participate in a retreat led by Fr. Paul Wierichs, who runs a retreat house in Long Island and works with a group of seniors called the Society of the Passion.

The Mathematics Department, co-chaired by Brother Christian Jones and Mrs. Amanda Lobkowitz, works hard to impart to students a solid base in the areas of mathematics and the theory and practice of mathematical analysis. The higher math courses, such as statistics and calculus, strive to give students an understanding of real world applications of mathematical techniques.

Freshmen can start their journey through the CBA Math Department at a variety of levels. Most freshmen start at Algebra I, but some freshmen who show exceptional mathematical talent on the math placement test may be placed into sophomore level courses, such as Geometry or Geometry-Algebra II.

The same variety of courses is offered during sophomore year. The students who take a higher-level course freshman year can take more advanced courses, such as Trigonometry-Analysis, taught by Brother Christian or Mr. Spidel.

During their junior year, students have the opportunity to begin taking Advanced Placement courses: Calculus I or Statistics. The most advanced course offered by the department is AP Calculus II, which is available to roughly twenty seniors each year. Taught by Mr. Santanello, the class serves to further the topics introduced in Calculus I. Aside from Calculus II, seniors also have the option of taking AP Statistics, Pre-Calculus, Finite Math, or College Algebra.

In addition to teaching math, the department also provides students with the opportunity to expand their mathematical experience through the Math Team. Headed by Brother Christian Jones, the Math Team provides students with the opportunity to participate in contests against other schools in Monmouth County, throughout the state, and even across the nation.

The World Language Department at CBA strives to provide students with not only a knowledge of language, but also with an understanding of the culture of the people who speak the language. The department believes that the study of world languages helps the students to develop an awareness of these other cultures as well as to gain a greater understanding and appreciation of their own cultural heritage. Additionally, the department holds that studying a language besides one's mother tongue helps a student reach his own humanistic potential. Headed by Ms. Maureen Buskin, the department offers both standard and honors courses in French, Spanish, and Latin, from level I up to level V. Additionally, AP courses are offered in Spanish and French for those students who are proficient in speaking and

Students who achieve high grades in French or Spanish become members of the language honor societies. The Department also sponsors one of the European trips each spring. CBA's English department tries its best to make students aware of the fundamental mechanical skills necessary for the competent and effective use of the English language in its written and spoken forms. The Department also offers the student insight and skills development in the art and science of creative, expository and analytical prose. Students learn of how English and language arts assist the mature and intelligent citizen in appreciating and productively contributing to his local, national, and worldwide community. Freshman English introduces students to the various genres of literature and the process of analysis classes. Sophomore, Junior, and Senior English study American, British, and world literature, respectively.

This year's Soccer Team was under the guidance of the National Parochial Soccer Coach of the Year, Mr.

Keane, and Mr. Matson. Captains Curtis Fox and Chris Rizzolo led the Colts to a final record of 19-2-1. After a premature elimination in the semi-finals of the Shore Conference Tournament, the season looked disappointing, but the Colts rallied to win their second Parochial A State Championship in three years. Highlights for this season included a semi-final win over nearby rival RBC, and a hard-fought championship game against previously undefeated Pingry in the state tournament at the College of New Jersey.

Under the able guidance of Coach Baldi, the Colt grapplers had their best season ever in the Shore Conference. They lost a tough match to Howell for dominance in A-North, but made strong showings in the Conference and State tournaments.

Senior wrestlers Charlie Wiggins, Ken Rys, Mike Griffin, J.D. Padilla, Kenny Kosza, Shane O'Connor and Adam Potulski each had impressive seasons, and a strong group of underclassmen helped to carry the team along.

Going 8-6-5- in regular season play, the team, led by senior captains Matt Haddad and Nick Samatora, defeated National A competitors SJV, Hudson Catholic and St. Joe's, Metuchen. After upsetting #1 ranked Delbarton in what has been called one of the greatest high school games in NJ, the Colts fell to state champion Bergen Catholic. With the close of this season, the Colts' say good-bye to seniors Matt Cherapanya, stand-out goalie Matt Feldman, Steve DiDonato and Tom Cimochoowski.

High jumpers Tom Wolf and Doug Coppola continued to soar, while in the field Julio Seda and Sean Dugan were vital parts to the Colts' success this season. Just like the teams of the past, the 2001 Colts have become synonymous with winning.

Led by seniors Rob Jaharian, Anthony Manzo, and Dave Maziuk, the Colts fought hard against some of the toughest competition in the state. It wasn't easy to follow up such a successful season, but the 2001 Colts did just that. Behind Coach Keane, the veteran Colts lineup dominated the A-North and Shore Conference competition. Seniors Clayton Orrigo, Ivan Eno, Bill Murtha, George Catrambone, and Kevin Levy led the Colts to a winning record and a very successful season overall. Two returning singles players combined with two solid doubles teams gave the Colts an even balance of attack. The Colts' veteran leadership and desire to win proved to be the right ingredients for a successful season.

The music department, moderated by Mrs. Sklenar, is designed to help develop talent and appreciation for music. The music department is made up of Rhythm 'n Blue, its choir and two bands, Jazz Band A and B. Concerts are held during Christmas and the Spring which allow the students to display their talents to the community.

Rhythm 'n Blue is the choral group of the school. They perform various songs ranging from Broadway hits to classic Christmas songs. Jazz Band A is the elite group of band members who have mastered their respective instruments. Jazz B is the secondary band that is made up of students who don't want to totally commit to Jazz Band A, but still want to play.

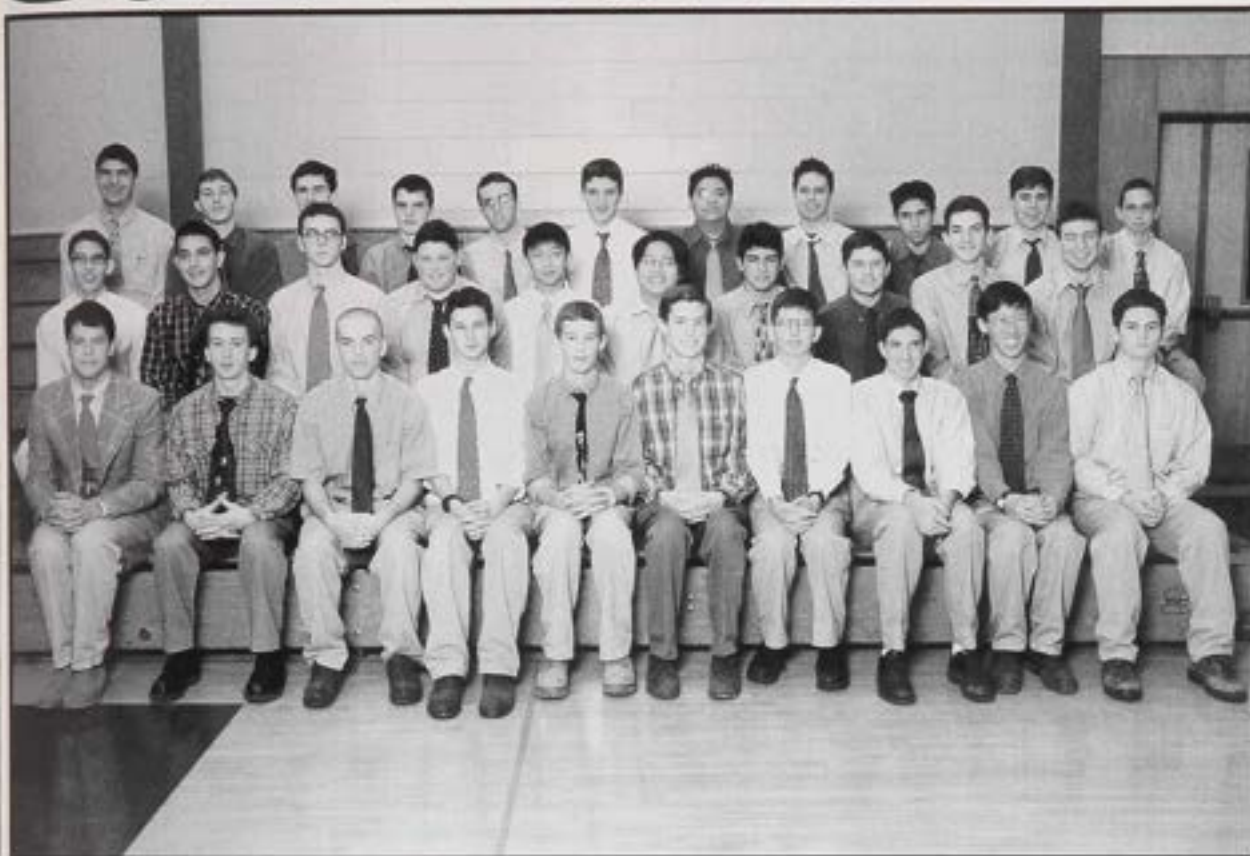

Every spring the band, along with the chorus, attends an adjudication tournament, where they are judged by experts on their abilities to perform flawlessly. For the past four years, Rhythm 'n Blue has won first place. The bands have won first place for the past two years.

The GURU/Peer Ministry Program is a unique senior elective dedicated to the enrichment of the freshman experience at CBA. The GURUs, serving as mentors to small groups of approximately ten freshmen, seek to augment the personal growth of their peers through the encouragement of group interaction and the promotion of strong moral character. Interacting with freshmen once per cycle is only a small portion of the GURU experience; when not preparing for their next meeting, the GURUs, under the guidance of Dr. Koch, discuss their experiences and explore the intricacies of group psychology. This unparalleled combination of mentorship and scholarship renders the GURU program one of the most sought-after and most personally fulfilling of all course offerings at the Academy.

Christian Service is a religion course composed of a group of seniors whose primary focus is volunteer work. Students are required to complete two hours of service every week for various organizations. They volunteer their time and effort by working at hospitals and nursing homes, as well as by tutoring the homeless and mentally disabled children. Some students choose to work with Habitat for Humanity, while others help feed the needy by volunteering at soup kitchens. In addition to their two hours of service, students are also required to reflect on their experiences by keeping a journal. The journal helps the student develop an understanding of his relationship with God through service to others. Under the direction of Mr. Sewnig, the class promotes generosity of spirit, which helps the students enhance their knowledge and life experiences.

The SADD Chapter of Chrisitan Brothers Academy was initiated during Spring of 2000 with the help of Mr. Brennan and two students, Matt Haddad and Mike Farina. Initially expected to receive a small following, CBA's SADD Chapter grew to be over 70 members strong.

CBA's SADD Chapter is dedicated to addressing the issues of underage drinking, drug use and other destructive decisions and killers of young people. Simply stated, our mission is:

"To provide students with the best prevention and intervention tools possible to deal with the serious issues young adults are facing today."

Empowerment is the foundation of SADD. The idea of empowerment is to build students' confidence and ability to create changes and manage behavior in a way that results in healthy choices. CBA's SADD Chapter plans various activities to help students empower themselves in this way. Activities include: Pizza Party/Discussion Meetings, Guest Speakers, Visual Demonstrations, as well as typical club functions such as fundraisers and recruiting campaigns. All in all, CBA's SADD Chapter is a success, yet still growing organization.

Mock Trial affords potential lawyers the opportunity to participate in realistic court settings with various students playing the roles of witnesses, lawyers, and jurors. Under the keen leadership of Father John and Brother Dan, the students learn how to interrogate witnesses and to persuade juries. The team participates in tournaments which gradually increase in difficulty. Students learn how to play their parts, engaged in the drama of the American courtroom. In the end, however, students learn that the only thing that matters is justice.

The Poetry Club is an organization for the students run by the students. In its first year, it has established itself as one of the premier clubs in CBA. The purpose of the club is to persuade young students to share and discuss their favorite poetry by such authors as Edgar Allan Poe, Robert Frost, and Robert Pinsky.

Students who are fascinated by the more obscure and insignificant details of life find an outlet in the CBA Trivia Club. They gather weekly to test their knowledge of profound and yet meaningless facts. Through distinctly different trials by fire, separate champions are crowned in areas such as Trivial Pursuit, Jeopardy, Sports Trivia, and Bible Trivia.

The Italian Sons of America, founded by Father John T. Folchetti, was created to give Italian American students a sense of their heritage. From the first time they drank cappuccino and ate biscotti, everyone realized that this would not be your ordinary club. They met simply because they love their culture and they want to be with others who feel the same way. The meetings consist of laughter, friendship, and good memories.

Student Government

Athletic and Student Affairs.....Pat Cremen
Cultural and Religious Affairs.....James Frascatore
Publicity Committee.....Ryan Sweeney
School Sprit Committee.....Tom Huthwaite
Moderator.....Mr. Higgins

Following a new format this year, the Student Government was involved with a wide range of activities this year. President Tim Tuohy and Vice-President Chris Rizzolo coordinated with their various committees. As always, their most popular venture is sponsoring the three dances in the Fall. This year also saw a highly successful Thanksgiving Food Drive. The Semi-Formal Dance is also coordinated by the Student Council.

Mr. Higgins, himself a one-time CBA Student Council President, keeps the officers on task by his wise direction and able assistance.

This year saw new activities, most notably that of the assisting students with their Service Projects by sponsoring Saturday trips to local charities.

Behind the scenes the Student Council serves as the liason between the students and the administration, and it is in this vein that Tim and Chris have been at their best. This year's Student Council has set a new standard for others to follow.

Academic Team

Demonstrating quick and thorough knowledge of subjects ranging from Medieval History, to Egyptian Mythology, from Classical Composers to Saturday morning cartoon characters, the Academic Team competes against schools from all over New Jersey and the nation in different tournaments. Under the tutelage of Dr. Koch, the team prepares for both toss-up and buzzer style tournaments. Members of the team need to be both quick thinking and accomplished in many different areas. This year the team competed at tournaments at Msgr. Donovan HS, Princeton University, Bloomfield HS, Bridgewater-Raritan HS, Millburn HS and Allentown HS.

Dances

This year, the Student Government, under the direction of Mr. Higgins, hosted three successful dances, featuring crowd-pleasing, hip DJ's. The dances help to expand social horizons by giving CBA students the opportunity to meet girls from local high schools. The tremendous popularity of these dances helps to support Student Government activities at CBA.

Semi-Formal

This year's Semi-Formal, held on February 9, was a huge success. The Valentine's Day theme set the ambiance for an evening of romance and friendship. Over two-hundred fifty couples attended, and it was a memorable night for all.

P i n g P o n g

To dull the winter doldrums, Jay Hsiang, Jon Kristan and Ms. Repetti set up a Ping Pong Singles Tournament, bringing together students and faculty for some exciting action on the tables. Chris DeCotiis intimidated the crowd by bringing his own paddle.

Club

Joining the ski club is a great way to experience the beauty of winter and to have fun while doing it. Led down the slopes by Mr. Sewnig and Mr. DeOrio, members have had the opportunity to ski on such great slopes as Killington, Stowe, and Camelback. The club is open to skiers of all levels, from expert to novice, so that all CBA students can participate. Skiers are not the only ones permitted, snowboarders are also welcomed. Members of the ski club take can enjoy the thrill of conquering the slopes and work at meeting new friends while taking a mini-vacation from home and school.

The Business Club is an open forum that discusses various topics relevant to the business world. Members of the club focus on modern depictions of business presented through film and other media, concentrating on issues that will help this group succeed in their future careers. In addition, the club's moderator, Mr. Tuohy, invites guest speakers to share their personal business experiences with club members. A trip to the New York Stock Exchange provides an additional perspective for the aspiring businessmen.

The Art Club is based on the principles of appreciation of art and creative expression of beauty. Under the talented leadership of Ms. Carroll, student artists meet in a workshop environment in order to produce their own creations: paintings, murals and sculptures are works-in-progress at these meetings. Future plans include visits to local museums and exhibits of their works throughout the school. The club provides a valuable outlet for creative expression by CBA artists.

I was just trying to get some lunch!

Rejoice, O young man, while you are young, and let your heart be glad in the days of your youth. Follow the ways of your heart, the vision of your eyes; Yet understand that as regards all this God will bring you to judgement. Ward off the grief from your heart and put away trouble from your presence, though the dawn of youth is fleeting.

The 2000-2001 yearbook is finally finished and we would like to send our utmost gratitude to all the people who have committed their time and creative minds to putting out the best yearbook ever.

We would like to take this opportunity to thank four people for their insightful innovations. Dave Schofield, who is the publisher's representative, helped organize chaos and helped capture all the moments that have made going to CBA for all these years a blast. Without Dave's help, this yearbook would be a mere picturebook instead of a complete publication. Dr. Koch, the faculty advisor, needs special thanks. His undying passion along with his side antics and complete trust does not go without notice by the staff. A special thanks goes to Mrs. Britton, a faculty advisor, who supported all of our endeavors. She guided us and made sure that we were well fed by bringing in donuts. We would also like to extend thanks to Mrs. Maroney who worked so diligently in making this year's yearbook a
